Parade to Begin Halloween Night Observance Here

The city's annual Halloween celebration, sponsored by the Recreation Department, will start at 7:15 o'clock tonight from Academy Green Park, it was announced today by Andrew J. Murphy, 3rd, superintendent of recreation.

Mr. Murphy said the parade, expected to be the largest in the history of the celebration, will proceed down Broadway to the municipal auditorium where it is expected to arrive at 8:15 p. m.

Mr. Murphy said he had received a special weather report with a forecast of cloudy for this evening.

"We seem fairly certain from that report," he said, "that the parade will go on as scheduled. In the event there is a slight mist we will go ahead with parade plans. Should it rain heavy at parade time we will cancel the parade but still hold the celebration in the municipal auditorium."

The line of march will include a police escort, the Port Ewen Colonial Cavaliers, A. H. Wicks Engine Co. hose cart, Port Ewen Junior Drum Corps, costumed marchers, the VFW Drum Corps and the 40 and 8 locomotive. Members of the musical units are requested to form at Maiden Lane at 7 p. m., Mr. Murphy said.

The Port Ewen Cavaliers will present a concert from the auditorium stage, and preliminary judging of the costume contest will follow. Prizes will be awarded.

Mayor Frederick H. Stang, Police Chief Raymond Van Buren and Lt. Robert F. Murphy of the traffic detail request that all youngsters participating return home following the auditorium celebration "without wanton and costly destruction of property and malicious acts."

Onteora Changes to 2-School Plan, Bond Cut to $775,000

An apparent delay in action by the City of New York in making available the school site in Olive is responsible for a change in plans in the Onteora Central School District and the board of education last evening at a special meeting voted to reduce the proposed bond issue from $1,125,000 to $775,000 to erect two schools at this time.

Reduction in the amount of the bond issue was voted since the present plan is to proceed with a two-school plan, leaving the third school in Olive until later when the site is made available by the City of New York.

A bond issue cannot be voted without a complete description of the premises to be acquired and the price to be paid. New York city will not be able to release the exact price or give a deed pending routine action by the Board of Estimates and other departments.

The Board of Education, Philip Gordon, president, with all members attending voted at the special meeting to proceed with a two-school plan. The plan is to build a seven-class room school on the LaGrange property at Shandaken and a second school of seven rooms in the Bearsville area.

The Bearsville site proposed is the Campanella property adjacent to the two big housing developments on the Bearsville flats where the majority of the children reside. If this site can be secured it will be unnecessary for the majority of the children to cross any public highway to reach school.

Dr. Robert C. Campanella, owner, will sell approximately victim of aggression in the Middle East.

Pledge Included Trio
Britain is reported to have informed the U. S. government that it considers the pledge defunct. The pledge bound the United States, Britain and France to work together in the Middle East to preserve peace.

Presidential press secretary James C. Hagerty said Eisenhower's talk tonight would be about 15 minutes—beginning at 7 p. m. (EST).

On All Networks

All major networks are expected to carry it.

Saying the talk would be "a non-political report," Hagerty added that the President would speak from his White House office and discuss "the developing situation in the Middle East."

Hagerty said further Eisenhower will "outline the American position" regarding the tense situation resulting from the Israeli thrust into Egypt on Monday.

Since that time Britain and France have announced plans to place troops in Egypt, and the two governments joined yesterday in vetoing a U. S. resolution in the United Nations Security Council.

Cease-Fire Sought
The U. S. resolution called for a cease-fire in Egypt, and for other UN member nations to refrain from any use of force in the area.

Hagerty said in response to newsmen's questions that Eisenhower and British Prime Minister Anthony Eden have exchanged additional personal messages regarding the Middle East situation. The White House announced dispatch of one Eisenhower message to Eden yesterday. In that one, also addressed to French Premier Guy Mollet, Eisenhower urged both the British and the French to refrain from use of force in the Middle East.

Phone Calls Denied
Asked today whether there was anything to a report that the President had talked to Eden by telephone, Hagerty said there had been no such phone calls.

But he went on to say that the President "has received and sent other personal messages" from and to Eden.

Responding to another question, Hagerty said some of those messages were exchanged before the one the White House announced today.

10 to 12 acres for $30,000 and there is an additional property of about three acres which will be given to the district to provide approximately 15 acres for the school site. However, there is the matter of rights of way for entrance to the Campanella property which does not border a public highway.

If the Campanella property can be acquired the site at Lake Hill will be abandoned. There had been some opposition to the Lake Hill site which would require transportation of pupils while the Bearsville site would permit most of those attending the school to walk.

E. H. Kittle Finishes 48 Years in Postal Service

Edwin H. Kittle, superintendent of the uptown station post-office, Main street, for 21 years is retiring. Today was his last on the job and he was greeted and congratulated by a host of friends throughout the day.

One of three clerks appointed on September 10, 1908, when the late Walter C. Dolson was postmaster, he has been stationed at the downtown station, the main postoffice on Broadway and at his present station.

His appointment as a clerk came shortly after the new central postoffice on Broadway was opened in 1908 and the staff of employees was increased. Mr. Kittle is the last of the three clerks appointed at that time and the Local Still Case Moved to Nov. 14

William Woerner, 62, of 40 Murray street, who was arrested Oct. 24 on a charge dealing with violation of the internal revenue code, was due for hearing today before U. S. Commissioner Isaac Platt at Poughkeepsie, but on request of the federal government the case was put over to Nov. 14.

Agents from the Bureau of Internal Revenue, Alcohol Tax Unit, Newburgh, allege that a 25-gallon still was in operation when they entered the house, and said they confiscated nearly 22 gallons of "white moonshine" whiskey, and 200 gallons of mash.

Woerner, who was represented by Attorney Charles J. Saccoman of Kingston when he was arraigned before Commissioner Platt, was released under $1,000 bail.

Lt. Robert F. Murphy, of the local police, Detective Frank H. Sammons, and County Investigator Arthur H. Brown were with the five federal men when they entered the house, and allegedly found the still operating in a second-floor room. The raid followed complaints from sources not revealed, agents said.

Appointed clerk, Mr. Kittle was assigned to the Rondout station of which George Plant was superintendent. He remained there for 10 years and was then transferred to the main post office where for 17 years he was at the "register" and "parcel-post" window.

Women 62 Will Start Benefits on Thursday

Washington, Oct. 31 (AP)—Starting tomorrow, women become eligible for social security retirement benefits at age 62 instead of age 65.

The change was voted by Congress earlier this year to become effective on Nov. 1. President Eisenhower at first opposed lowering the retirement age for women but approved the plan after Congress stipulated that earlier retirement would be at a lower benefit rate.

850,000 Are Eligible
An estimated 850,000 women between the ages of 62 and 65 are eligible to claim benefits under the earlier retirement provisions.

Sometimes it is to their advantage to do so, sometimes not. Whatever choice is made, payment will continue on that basis for life.

The Health, Education and Welfare Department, which administers the giant social security system, said that 311,000 women had filed claims by Oct. 18 for an earlier retirement benefits. First government checks to women retiring at ages 62 or 64 will go out in about a month, in early December.

The 65-year retirement age still remains for men. However, beginning July 1 next year, any male or female eligible for social security can, on becoming permanently disabled, receive full retirement benefits at age 50 or over.

Taxes to Go Up
To pay for the new disability benefits, social security taxes will go up next Jan. 1. Where the present tax is 2 per cent each on the worker and his employer—on earnings up to $4,200 annually—it will increase to 2½ per cent each at the beginning of the new year.

This tax increase is calculated to bring in about $50 million dollars a year. The maximum increase any worker will be $10.50 a year.

Not much additional cost to the social security funds is anticipated due to earlier women's retirement because in many cases women retiring before 65 will do so at a lower rate of benefits.

Nothing to Lose
Under the new law, effective today, widows and dependent mothers (whose supporting relatives have died) have everything to gain and nothing to lose by earlier retirement. They are eligible for the same benefits at 62 as at 65.

Payments for women in this category are equal to three-fourths the amount their husbands would have received had they lived. For example, if a widow's husband had an average $100 monthly wage, she would get $41.30 at age 62. If he had averaged $350 monthly or more, she would get $81.40 a month at age 62.

Pay Schedule
Working women retiring at 62 will receive 80 per cent of benefits they would otherwise get by waiting until 65 or older to retire. A woman entitled at 65 to receive the maximum benefit of $108.50 a month would receive $86.80 upon retiring at 62. If past 62 but not yet 65, she will receive an added 5/9ths of 1 per cent for each month.

The Chamber by-laws makes specific provisions for spreading the control and representation on the board of directors. Although

Two Catskill Youths Are In Arkansas

Stuttgart, Ark., Oct. 31 (AP)—Two runaway teen-agers, a boy and a girl, were picked up near Stuttgart last night, five days and four stolen cars after they left their homes at Catskill, N. Y., state police said today.

State Trooper Jim Stobaugh said the girl told him she and the boy left home because of a "combination of circumstances." She declined to elaborate.

The trooper identified the youngsters as Judy Guldenstern, 14, (128 Brand street) and Daniel Dargan, 15, (Route 1.) both of Catskill. He said that when the two left New York they "had nothing" but when they arrived in east Arkansas they had $468.

The pair was taken into custody by Stobaugh "because they didn't fit their car." He found them stranded on a highway as a result of a flat tire. The girl later told officers that she and Dargan had sold the spare tire.

Stobaugh quoted the girl as saying she and her companion started the 1,400-mile trip last Friday night in a car taken at Catskill. She said they took another car at Sedalia, Ohio, but had to abandon it because they accidentally filled it with tractor fuel from a farm tank.

They stole two other cars in Kentucky, she told officers. The two were allowed to telephone their parents, who were reported en route to Stuttgart. No charges were filed.

Eddyville Bridge Public Hearing Set for Thursday

A public hearing will be held Thursday at 1 p. m. at the Town of Esopus town auditorium, Port Ewen, at which time the New York State Department of Public Works will present for discussion general plans for a new bridge at Eddyville.

Under the laws of 1956, where federal fund participation is involved, a public hearing must be held on such projects.

At the hearing public necessity and justification for expenditure of the funds will be discussed and all citizens will be given an opportunity to inquire as to the general plan, location of the new structure and seek any other information desired.

Plans for the bridge are under preparation by the State Department of Public Works at Albany and a general plan will be available for discussion at the public hearing Thursday.

Final plans will be prepared and available when funds are allocated and the project is ready for soliciting bids, it was stated today at the district office of the Public Works Department in Poughkeepsie. No date for advertising for bids has been set.

The narrow bridge connecting the towns of Ulster and Esopus over the Rondout creek at Eddyville was damaged by recent floods.

Britain, France Not Giving Up Key Posts Eden Stresses England Protecting Own Interests Regardless of U.S. View

London, Oct. 31 (AP)—Britain and France launched air and naval bombing against Egypt's Suez Canal zone today.

The French Defense Ministry in Paris made the announcement on receipt of word from Cyprus, the British island fortress where British and French paratroopers have been poised nearly three months while the Suez crisis simmered.

There was no mention of ground forces.

The announcement said combined aerial and naval bombardments began at 6:40 p. m., Egyptian time (11:40 a. m. EST) against points in the Suez Canal.

Ultimatum Expires
A British-French ultimatum, demanding that Egypt and Israel cease hostilities and that the fighting forces of both sides keep clear of a zone 10 miles on either side of the canal, expired 14 hours earlier. Egypt rejected the ultimatum. Israel accepted it on the condition that Egypt would agree.

The French and British contended fighting on the Sinai peninsula endangered the canal because of aerial and paratroop activity in the area and thrusts by Israeli armored columns, reported by British Prime Minister Eden to be nearing the Canal Zone.

Won't Quit Key Posts
Eden told the House of Commons, during angry questioning today by Labor members, that Britain and France intended to carry out their purpose of occupying key Canal Zone points, including Suez, Port Said and Ismailia.

Despite the open disapproval of the United States of the action, Eden said:

"We stand by what we said and we shall carry it out."

To Fight for Interests
Eden said Britain had to protect her own vital interests in the Middle East with or without U. S. agreement.

Announcements from both Cairo and Tel Aviv, the Israeli army headquarters, indicated heavy fighting continued in the Sinai desert, the eastern approach to the canal.

Ike Talk in Philly Possible But Crisis May Change Plans

Washington, Oct. 31 (AP)—President Eisenhower kept open the possibility today that he might resume his re-election campaign tomorrow by making a scheduled speech in Philadelphia.

But indications were strong that the Middle East crisis, arising from Israel-Egypt fighting and a British-French decision to occupy key posts in the Suez Canal Zone, would keep him at the White House.

Definitely canceled was a flying visit which had been scheduled today to Texas, Oklahoma and Tennessee.

The White House said he might try to make it some other day before next Tuesday's voting. But Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said all campaign plans now "are on a day-to-day basis."

The trip to Philadelphia, to address a rally which would be carried nationally by radio and television (9:30 p. m. EST,

Israel claimed its forces had taken up positions only 10 miles from the canal, the "ultimatum" line.

Egypt announced its Soviet-supplied jet planes had been thrown into action.

Fighting Continues
The Egyptian high command announced that heavy fighting, which began yesterday afternoon, was continuing yet today in the El Ajaia-Abou Oguila area just inside the Egyptian border and close to the base of the Egyptian-occupied Gaza Strip of Palestine.

Israeli broadcasts indicated the Israeli forces were attempting to cut off the Gaza Strip.

Eden refused to say whether British and French forces have landed on Egyptian soil. There were unconfirmed reports from the Middle East all day that the landings had started. The latest, from Israel radio, said British troops went ashore in the Suez area. There was no confirmation from Cairo.

"We cannot accept that we have to obtain the agreement of the United States before acting in our own vital interests," Eden declared.

Eden declined to give the House of Commons any details on action to be taken by British

Third Ward Next On Leaves Slate

Collection of leaves by the public works department is scheduled to start in the third ward tomorrow morning, weather permitting, Mayor Frederick H. Stang said today.

This year, the mayor noted, a snow-loading unit has been used in picking up the leaves, and it has been found far more efficient than the former method. Workmen began several days ago picking up leaves in the heavily populated second ward, and about all collections have been completed there.

(NBC), would take Eisenhower away from Washington for about five hours, perhaps less.

Original plans called for him to take a train to Philadelphia and fly back right after his talk. He could save an hour or more by flying both ways.

White House aides, weighing the chances of Eisenhower's going to Philadelphia Thursday night, emphasized that fast-breaking developments make it impractical for him to stay away from the capital for very long.

This is particularly true since, as Hagerty noted yesterday, Eisenhower had no advance word from Britain and France that they were sending troops to the Suez.

While nobody at the White House would talk about it, the Middle East explosion was heavy with political implications. Peace has been one of Eisenhower's key issues, and Democratic presidential candidate Adlai E. Stevenson already is accusing Eisenhower of misleading the American people with too rosy a view of the Middle East situation.

Low Bid on Hurley School 5-Room Addition $98,456

A low bid of $98,456 for general construction of a five-room addition to the Hurley School was received Tuesday evening by the board of education.

The low bid was submitted by Eugene Ossie of Highland.

Other bids for general construction were: Henry H. Swart and Son, of Hurley, $102,600; Larsen and Johansen, Inc., of Stone Ridge, $108,500; Velletri Construction Co., of Poughkeepsie, $114,911 and Adam Papuga Co., $108,295.

David Jacobs of Hunter submitted a low bid of $8,988 for electrical work. The other bid of $10,499 was submitted by Joe E. O'Connor of Rosendale.

Bids on plumbing included Bank Brothers of Accord, $8,118 and C. B. Strain and Son of Kingston, $13,756.

Bank Brothers submitted a low bid of $11,747 for heating and ventilating. The bid of C. B. Strain and Son was $12,300 while Bernard Steinke, Inc., bid $16,489.

Ernest Myer, principal, who announced the bids today, said construction of the addition is scheduled to start this fall and it is expected it will be completed and ready for occupancy in September, 1957. Harry Halverson of Kingston is the architect.

Mr. Myer said the total bond issue of $150,000 was for construction and equipment. The architect's estimate, he said, was $138,000.

The new addition will provide a total of 12 classrooms with cafeteria and gymnasium when it is completed, he said.

Philadelphia, Oct. 31 (P)—A grand jury has indicted 12 men arrested earlier in connection with an alleged tri-state vice ring.

A total of 53 bills involving morals charges was returned against the men yesterday in an investigation of the ring's reported operations in Pennsylvania, New York and New Jersey. Those indicted included:

Bernard Jacobs, 30, former head of a modeling agency and named by investigators as one of the heads of the ring.

Louis Cargill, 49, of suburban Devon, a plastic manufacturer, against whom a statutory rape charge was dismissed yesterday in New York city.

A girl's given name of Evangeline means "bringing joyous news."

33 Are Rescued
From Freighter
By Coast Guard

New York, Oct. 31 (P)—A coast guard cutter rescued 33 crew members—one a woman—from a battered German freighter in storm-churned seas off Newfoundland yesterday.

The cutter Chincoteague saved the weary crew of the Helga Bolten about 15 hours after the freighter flashed an SOS. The cutter had raced 210 miles to reach the stricken ship.

The 7,262-ton Helga Bolten—two hatches stove in by giant waves—was reported still afloat today with the cutter standing by. Two salvage tugs were en-route to the deserted freighter.

The cutter started the tricky rescue by firing a line to the Helga Bolten and sending over two rubber rafts. Huge waves prevented either ship from launching lifeboats.

The Helga Bolten was bound from Norfolk, Va., to Bergen, Norway, with a cargo of coal when she was crippled by raging seas 400 miles east of Newfoundland.

The caravan, which will consist of a decorated truck and an open truck to transport rally participants, will assemble at the Old Hurley firehouse at 5:45 p. m., and will proceed through the villages of Hurley and West Hurley.

The caravan is scheduled to arrive at the West Hurley firehouse at 7:45 p. m. Republican candidates, including Claude Bell for sheriff, Charles H. Gaffney for surrogate and Kenneth Wilson for member of Assembly, will speak at the West Hurley firehouse.

Dancing will be held following the speaking program and refreshments will be served. Mrs. John Wilkie and Mr. Grey are in charge of arrangements.

Edmund Czerwinski, club president, said he hoped the caravan would inspire everyone "to be sure and vote as it is a duty of the individual to his country in these crucial times."

Greyhound and the Street Railway and Motor Coach Employees union recessed negotiations last night. Federal conciliator Harry Young of Harrisburg, Pa., said the negotiators made considerable progress, "but both parties are still far apart."

City Appeals Ruling On School Teachers

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 31 (P)—The City of New York has appealed a ruling that it cannot fire school teachers who refuse to report on Communist activities of fellow teachers.

Peter Campbell Brown, the city's corporation counsel, yesterday asked the state Supreme Court to reverse a decision returned Aug. 8 by Education Commissioner James S. Allen.

Allen lifted suspensions the city had imposed on four teachers and a principal and reversed the dismissal of a Hunter College professor.

The commission said that a policy of firing a teacher for refusing to "inform" would do "more harm than good." He said the practice "has no place in the school system."

Allen held that school principals were required to provide information about teachers working under them. The principal involved was ordered to submit to new questioning.

Brown did not specify the grounds on which the city challenged Allen's decision.

MADISON AVENUE BOYS

A great profession—one that is vitally important to the continued well-being of our nation's economy—is being slurred and ridiculed almost daily in the Presidential campaign battle. It could do irreparable harm.

Some smart politicians decided it would be a good thing to attack their opponents as being lame brains not able to conduct their own campaigns, and for calling in experts in the merchandising and sale of ideas and products to help them. It isn't the first time advertising men and advertising agencies have handled political accounts, but this is the first time that "the Madison Avenue boys" have been the target of sneering references for their efforts.

The unfortunate part is that only a small segment of the advertising industry is involved in this work, and yet there is a reckless, destructive use of the political smear against advertising and advertising men per se.

Many people never have and never will understand the true role advertising plays in maintaining and furthering high living standards in this country. They do not realize that advertising makes it possible for them to have large comprehensive newspapers, multicolor magazines, continuing radio and television entertainment. They do not know that advertising sells merchandise in great quantity enabling industrial wheels to keep moving thus providing more and more jobs. And yet, through the years there has developed a certain confidence in the truthfulness of advertising because of the endless efforts of leaders in that field to make it so. Exceptions, fortunately, are in the minority.

If the political smear destroys to any extent, which it now threatens to do, this confidence in the advertising profession, in the advertising products it creates and the manufacturers or retailers it represents, the American people will be the losers because of its depressing effect on sales and therefore on the entire economy.

Advertising techniques have been used before successfully to sell ideas. There is no reason why political parties should not utilize the ability and experience that is available. Both the Democrats and Republicans are doing so. The smears are uncalled for and unjustified.

Seems Brazil is getting nervous over stories of a new coffee substitute. Anybody who remembers that stuff consumed during the war, and the rush for real coffee afterwards, finds it hard to worry about the future of the coffee market.

LIFE (MAYBE) IN 2056

Anyone who succeeds in living until 2056 will see wonderful things, according to industrial leaders who helped lay the cornerstone of New York's Socony Mobil building. Their forecasts were enclosed in the cornerstone, which will be opened a century from now to surprise the populace with their wisdom or their folly.

Travel at the rate of 10,000 miles an hour was prophesied by Benjamin F. Fairless, former head of the United States Steel Corporation. This would be made possible by the development of new types of steel which would resist the heat generated by such terrific speeds.

Electric power from the tides or the sun was another prediction. But an item which might come closer to home for many is the development of paper of a rubbery consistency, which could be stretched, and out of which could be made boat sails, garbage bags and bathing suits.

What a pity that so few of us will live to see all this. Think of having stretchable dollar bills!

After all the harrowing reports of research cigarette smokers have had to endure in the last few years, it comes as a final insult to hear that they are now contributing to west coast smog.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY
PRISONERS OF THE PAST

John Emmet Hughes, who writes speeches for President Eisenhower, wrote one for himself and delivered it at the Republican Convention. A paragraph or two of that speech becomes particularly pertinent at this moment when it would seem, although we shall not know for sure until the votes are in, that while President Eisenhower is managing to re-elect himself, it does not appear that he can make over the Republican Party in his image.

Hughes, in his speech, asked this question: "... Which party seems less a prisoner of the past—and more a wise master of the future? ... It is a very strong question. Every young man and woman is a Marco Polo rediscovering what was always there. Youth attempts, in each generation, to disassociate itself from its past, only to find, as it grows into maturity, that the past is ever-present and cumulative. It is not so much a question of being a prisoner of the past, as needing to adjust oneself to the fact that at least four generations are currently alive in this country and that the oldsters grow more numerous as medicine and science keep them alive longer and that they have memories of a more comfortable era which their successors may never know.

And then there is the in-between generation, those who experienced the flapper age, the great inflation, the great depression and finally the sight of their sons going off to war as they had done a generation ago. Hughes does not understand that these two generations are no more prisoners of the past than he is, but they have lived through a whole set of different experiences than he had to date. Most of them, if they were in the Republican Party in 1952, supported Robert Taft rather than Dwight D. Eisenhower, because they believed that Taft more closely represented traditional Republican liberalism than Eisenhower did. They interpreted liberalism in the 19th century sense as a recognition of an increasing right of the individual human being to form the pattern of his life without hindrance by government.

This element of the Republican Party lost in 1952; its leader, Robert A. Taft, died. The conservative Republicans, as most of them prefer to be designated, accepted the Eisenhower victory as a fact and hoped for the best.

Hughes says: "... Two decades or more ago, this Republican Party seemed to us a great institution grown weary in spirit and weak in conviction. Zeal and imagination flourished elsewhere. ..."

What Hughes undoubtedly means is that the New Deal was more spectacular, more exciting, more stimulating than conservative Republicanism prior to Eisenhower. If it was the spectacular, the exciting, the stimulating that one wanted in the 1930's up to 1945, to take a date, the Communist Party offered even greater attractions, and the fact is that some of our brightest young men and women, some of our best trained minds moved in that direction.

But if one sought a continuity of American tradition, if one believed that the Constitutional system could be adjusted to any circumstances of life, if one recognized that even the most hopeful revolution develops its own inadequacies, then conservative Republicanism offered a program which attracted the largest number of Republicans. They were not enough to elect a President, but they maintained a strong voice in the United States Senate.

It is always exciting to read the philosophy of the next generation, particularly of the impatient next generation whose hooves are beating on one's heels. My generation which reached its manhood during World War I sought liberty for all mankind; it sought for government by choice; it believed in all sorts of ideals from the mutual aid of Prince Kropotkin to the social service Christianity of the Y.M.C.A. It did not worship a man as a god. Neither Theodore Roosevelt nor Woodrow Wilson was what today is called leadership. They were Presidents. Later the word, leadership, appeared in Europe, in Italy and Germany, and in time everywhere and in a sense it is a bad word because it puts a man, an individual, a mortal person, above principles of life. However, each generation finds its own philosophy and its own follies. The word, president, for an American, is more accurate than the word, leader, which can be translated into the German as Fuehrer and into Italian as Duce.

That Body of Yours

HELPING PARENTS

We have been discussing the various ways in which parents react to a handicapped child, whether it be a mental or physical defect, and today I would like to go on with the ways in which such parents may be helped.

In the first place, they should be reassured that the child's disability is not their fault. This may have to be repeated many times before the parents will accept it. In some instances it is possible to explain how the condition occurred and what it really is. Thus the parent need blame neither himself nor others. Realistic understanding by each parent of his child's present status in relation to his handicap, as well as some idea of future expectations, will help to relieve anxiety and allow the child to develop to his best possible level.

Group discussion is of value in lessening the parents' feeling of isolation and difference and also in demonstrating that their attitude toward the child in no way differs from that of other parents toward their handicapped children. This brings reassurance and relief of the feeling of guilt. Group activities will help channel parental feelings and attitudes constructively. An analysis can be made of the child's emotional, social and educational needs and suggestions made as to how they may best be met. The crippled child's role in the family can be discussed and techniques planned for neighborhood participation.

The parent is faced with many problems. His lot is made easier by early diagnosis and explanation as to what the disability means. He needs the facts and an understanding of them. He should be helped to accept the diagnosis and plan of treatment. There is a continuing need for explanation and evaluation of the child's needs at different stages. An entire reorganization of the household may be necessary. Help from relatives, neighbors or organizations may be desirable so that the mother will not become too fatigued or other members of the family neglected. A regular routine is valuable to both the family and the child.

The crippled child cannot go out and take his place among normal children in many cases. His activities and self-dependence are limited, so his parents must find ways to make up for this. This requires much time and thought. If the crippling is such that it will prevent normal activity throughout life, the problem is to fit the patient to live within a narrower range than the normal child.

The attitudes of parents are apt to be extreme. Their feelings are usually a confused mixture of protection, tenderness, hostility, rejection and pity. Children differ in their inner ability to react with anger, aggressiveness, self-dependence and courage.

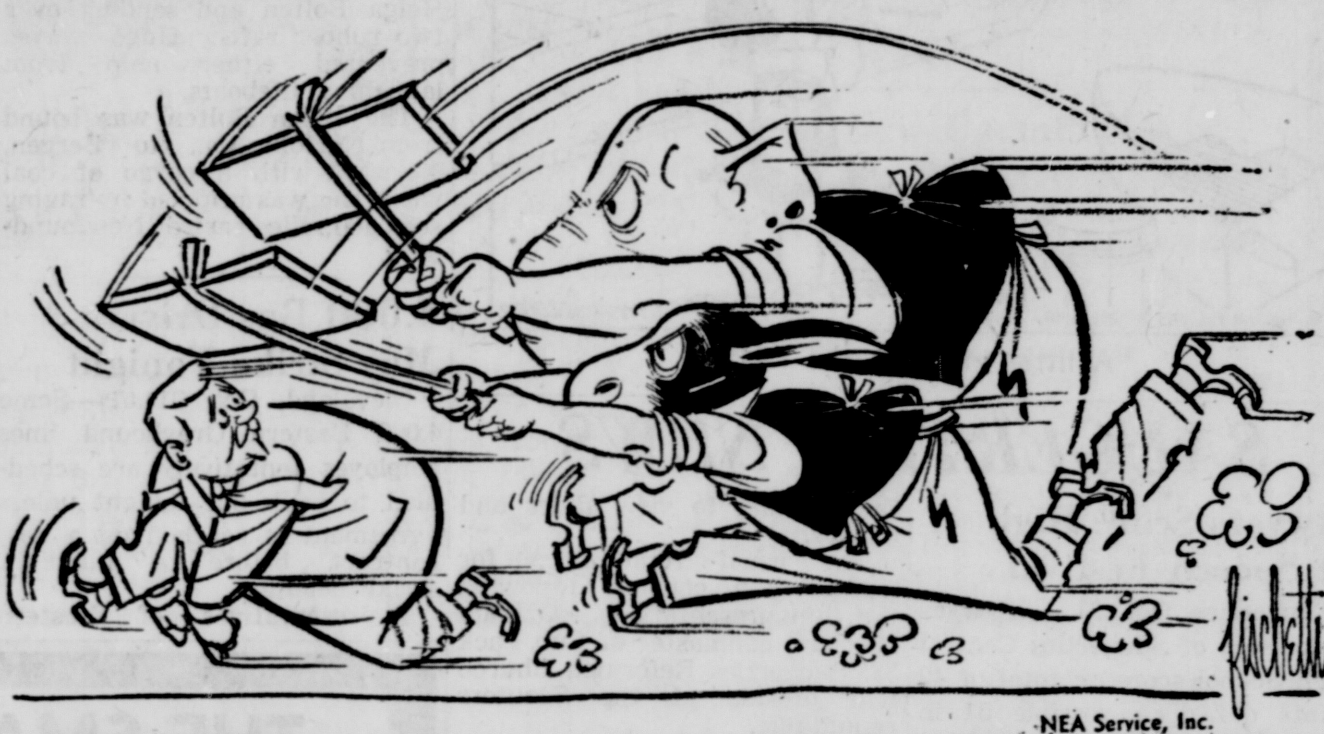

Tomorrow we will consider the child's reaction to his handicap and to the manner in which his parents consider it.

Edson's Washington News Notebook

By PETER EDSON

NEA Washington Correspondent
Washington (NEA)—If your doctor, lawyer or merchant tries to sell you a little political propaganda along with his regular services, you can be fairly certain it's part of an organized campaign.

For this year the professions as well as the labor unions are being recruited to get out the vote.

House-to-house calls, telephone solicitations and letter-writing campaigns are being conducted at an unprecedented rate.

The Republicans have organized Lawyers Committees as adjuncts to their Eisenhower-Nixon Clubs. Attorneys are asked for contributions of from $10 to $100 or more.

Doctors, dentists, osteopaths, chiropractors, veterinarians and druggists are being dragged in on the health issue. They are being asked not only to give money but to work.

They are being asked to have political literature available in their offices and on their counters. They are asked to take part in registration drives. And for Election Day, doctors and their wives are being asked to line up 25 of their friends with cars to take ill patients to the polls.

THE REPUBLICANS got the jump on this campaign by forming a "Committee on the Healing Arts" last August. It is headed by Dr. Elmer Hess, former president of American Medical Assn. It operates from Republican national headquarters in Washington under a young ex-naval doctor, William B. Walsh.

A series of letters has gone out to thousands of doctors on Republican national committee stationery.

After Democratic candidate

Adlai Stevenson issued his health program paper and after ex-President Harry Truman again called for enactment of his health insurance plan, the GOP Committee on Healing Arts made another direct appeal to all doctors.

It called for "protection of the unfettered practice of medicine" by "the last of the self-employed" in a "free enterprise America."

Some of these letters naturally bounced back to Democratic headquarters with copies of hot replies from doctors who resented them.

BUT ONLY THEN did the Democrats bestir themselves to organize their own "Committee of Physicians and Surgeons for Stevenson-Kefauver."

Dr. Paul Magnuson of Washington, former head of the Committee for the Nation's Health, was named chairman, but he later resigned.

Dr. Karl A. Meyer of Chicago, Dr. Benjamin Spock of Cleveland and Dr. Everts A. Graham of Chicago now head up the Democratic committee.

But they got such a late start they are working at a disadvantage.

Some of the letters they have received from their doctors are, however, pretty strong medicine. A copy of one, written as a reply to a letter from GOP's Dr. Hess by Dr. James K. Martins of Elvira, Wisc., reads in part:

"I am a general practitioner in a community devoted to farming in a town of 450. I was a medical officer in WW II and Korean War and fought for free enterprise. I have watched one small farm after another go down the drain in my community in the past two years. I may go broke, but I am going to see that they get the medical care they need ..."

A LETTER sent "To the Drug-gists of Our Nation" by Cuzalina Drug Co., Ponca City, Okla., closed with the plea, "We drug-gists can do much to safeguard the welfare of our nation by re-electing Dwight D. Eisenhower in 1956."

Kenneth W. Rowe, a Knoxville, Tenn., pharmacist serving with the Army at Fort Jackson, S. C., replied in part:

"I am for the John Does that trade in our drug store. With the Eisenhower administration they take second place to big business. ... You said that you are a small town merchant who loves his town his state and his country. I would like to suggest that if you love your store, vote Democratic."

The Republican justification for its campaign among doctors, lawyers and other professional groups was cited in one circular letter sent out by Dr. Walsh. It said that "Walter Reuther and his friends in the CIO have already enlisted organized labor ... and the heavy registration in industrial areas has proved its effectiveness. The Republican organization cannot compete against this manpower except through voluntary help."

Israel's Action Is Called A Matter of Self-Defense

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Oct. 31 — Who really is the aggressor in the Middle East? The average person who reads only the headlines this week can easily be misled if he doesn't acquaint himself with the full record. Here is the chronological story:

On May 14, 1948, the British "mandate" or "trusteeship" over certain Middle Eastern areas was ended. The State of Israel had been created as a result of action taken by the United Nations in December, 1947. But Arab forces invaded Israel to prevent the Israeli state from functioning.

Guerrilla action was constant and on May 15, 1948, Egypt began her blockade of all Israeli ships, and particularly ordered that none should go through the Suez Canal.

The Arab-Israeli war went on till the armistice, concluded on Feb. 23, 1949.

The blockade nevertheless continued, notwithstanding protests from the United Nations.

Blockade Not Lifted

On Aug. 16, 1951, Great Britain, France and the United States sponsored a resolution in the Security Council of the United Nations asking Egypt to lift the blockade.

On Sept. 1, 1951, this resolution was adopted by a vote of 8 to 0, with Russia, India and China not voting.

The blockade was not lifted, and in March, 1954, the Security Council again asked Egypt to abandon the blockade. Russia voted against the resolution. Egypt disregarded it.

On Sept. 28, 1954, the first Israeli ship attempting to run the blockade was confiscated by Egypt, notwithstanding a protest by the UN.

On Nov. 16, 1955, Egypt extended her blockade of Israel to a point within a mile and a half of the Israeli port of Eilat, cutting off shipments to and from the East.

Border raids have been continuous despite the armistice. Both Arab and Israeli forces have crossed the lines and disregarded armistice provisions, each usually citing provocations or reprisals.

Jordan Not Censured

On March 17, 1954, after an attack by Jordan forces on an Israeli bus, the Mixed Armistice Commission didn't censure Jordan.

dan and Israel thereupon boycotted the commission.

On March 29, 1955, an Israeli raid on Egypt in the Gaza Strip was condemned by the Security Council of the UN.

On Dec. 11, 1955, Israeli forces raided fortifications in Syria and were again condemned by the UN on Jan. 19, 1956.

On April 19, 1956, a cease-fire was agreed to under the auspices of the UN.

But an armistice or a cease-fire still means that a "state of war" exists. When Nasser of Egypt seized the Suez Canal on July 26, 1956, Israel was further endangered because even shipments in other vessels destined for Israel could be kept from her if Egypt decided at any moment to refuse passage of such goods through the Suez Canal.

But the biggest danger to Israel has been in the refusal of Egypt to recognize the little republic and in continuously threatening her existence. So Israeli forces find it necessary today to safeguard their interests.

The British and French demand now that both Israel and Egypt withdraw their forces from the canal and that the waterway be "temporarily" occupied by the British and French forces.

Israel Willing

The Israeli government is willing. But Egypt is not. Nasser's position in violating the 1888 treaty, which guaranteed the canal against seizure by any power, is still something that must be reviewed by some competent tribunal — either the United Nations or a commission set up by that organization.

Meanwhile, President Eisenhower expressed today his hope that force would not be used by the British or French governments. Both were persuaded once before to let the situation drift, but now show signs of impatience.

So, all in all, it's more than a matter of who is or is not the aggressor. It's a question of whether Israel, which depends for its life on shipments to and from the rest of the world, can be strangled by Egypt just because the latter has arbitrarily seized the Suez Canal. Israel's units inside Egypt that threaten her territory from points near the border is much more a case of self-defense than it is an act of aggression.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

Chicago, Oct. 30—The current scandal over cheap professionalism and cheating against morals and ideals in the Western and Pacific Football Conferences is an echo of similar uprisings raised as long ago as 1905. In a half century, football has lost all but the vaguest resemblances to its old self on the field, but it is still incorrigibly corrupt amid the most pietistical conditions.

Even institutions of learning managed by habited members of religious orders have put on "programs" with poor boys chosen for their ability to ring up enormous gate receipts in return for niggardly handouts in cash or in kind.

The introduction to a series of stories by Ned Jordan, a Wisconsin student, published in Collier's in 1905, said this was "a description of the unacademic and demoralizing methods which are being employed by athletic directors and coaches, students and friends of the six largest mid-western universities in the modern chase for victory."

The page was adorned with photographs of Frank O. Smith, a student at Northwestern (McCormack) of Northwestern University and George Huff, of Illinois. Smith was the athletic manager at Northwestern and McCormack and Huff were coaches. The text said Smith had followed athletic methods which he knew to be "wrong," that Huff's ethics were "changed by defeat" and that McCormack got a $500 bonus for victory. David Starr Jordan, the president of Leland Stanford, said "The evils of football center mainly about the use of money, which, when used no matter how subtly," was an agent of demoralization.

"It is necessary that no football man be allowed to receive money from any source in consideration of his playing," Doctor Jordan insisted. "This excludes him from scholarships, gifts from alumni or citizens, from sincere positions and any of the hundred opportunities of attending college without paying the cost."

Huff said "there are more liars and hypocrites than amateurs made through the efforts of colleges to keep within the conference rules." Smith and McCormack said the campaign for men carried on by the friends of the universities had made a grafter of every athlete of ability in the west.

Ned Jordan wrote that the University of Chicago was "a monument to the Standard Oil." "Millions from the rebalancing coffers of John D. Rockefeller have contributed to the building of a great institution in one short decade. Many are given scholarships and a remission of tuition for student service. Through this Chicago found it possible to check the bids of the scrambling colleges" which were competing for high school players and even for men with varsity careers behind them at small colleges.

"Walter Eckersall, quarterback and All American end, is an athletic ward of the University of Chicago retained to build her athletic prestige. Walter MacChesney, a Chicago business man, offered him his entire expenses to go to Michigan. He was short three of the minimum credits for the most poorly prepared freshman. He received tuition for the entire course. Twice he was disqualified for poor academic work but never during football season. His studies were always 'made up' at that time."

Chicago finally quit football under Robert Maynard Hutchins, but not for the moral purpose of decontaminating a corrupt football institution. Chicago was almost effeminate in football by that time and the "varity was pathetic, derided even on its own campus. Certainly there were no pros at Chicago then, so the decision to quit was directed at a beloved crooked and inexplicable freak of "the American way."

I may disagree violently with his (Adlai Stevenson's) ideas. But since I am such a plain talker, I admire a fellow who can use good words.

I knew most of them (convicted Brinks robbers) at the old Charlestown State Prison. They'll be all right. They're real pros, not punks.

—Perley Vance, deputy warden of Massachusetts State Prison at Walpole, where eight Brink's bandits will serve life terms.

They (the GOP) have been reading books. I noticed they even have a man in the administration who has written a book. There's no telling where this thing may end.

—Adlai Stevenson says the Republicans have organized an "egghead" drive.

Grange to Press Education Aid

Buffalo, N. Y., Oct. 31 (AP)—An official of the state Grange says that the program of state aid to education "will continue to be of paramount importance in the (state) legislative session of 1957."

Kenneth H. Fake of Albany, legislative representative of the organization, said yesterday that the problem of state aid to schools, especially to those in poorer districts, "is still far from having a satisfactory conclusion."

Fake, however, made no specific recommendations regarding the program. State aid for schools was increased by nearly 90 million dollars a year at the 1956 session of the Legislature.

Fake addressed about 800 delegates attending the 84th annual convention of the Grange. The meeting ends tomorrow.

New Dormitories To Be Started Soon

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 31 (AP)—The New York State University says the second phase of a long-range, dormitory - construction program will get underway soon.

No starting date was specified in an announcement yesterday. The university said the first phase, started in 1950, was completed recently. It added buildings with a total 3,281 beds to various units of the university.

The second phase calls for adding 3,400 beds by 1958.

Still to be designed is the third phase, which involves construction of dormitories with 3,400 beds. The schedule calls for completion in 1959.

Equitable Life Announces Gain In Mortgages

Despite the tightness of the mortgage market, the Equitable Life Assurance Society of the United States increased its New York residential mortgage advances under its Assured Home Ownership Plan by 7.5 per cent during the first nine months of 1956.

John J. Muller, vice president, announced today that the society made 1,373 home mortgage loans amounting to $15,834,000 during the period. Comparable figures for the first nine months of 1955 showed 1,425 loans at a total value of $14,731,000.

Mr. Muller also said that, at the end of September, Equitable's outstanding residential mortgage investments in New York comprised 16,106 loans totalling $105,344,000. Under its plan of home mortgage investment, the Equitable cancels the mortgage in the event of the homeowner's death.

Farm Prices Show Slight Decline

Washington, Oct. 31 (AP)—A week before the election, the Agriculture Department has reported another drop in farm prices—the fourth in as many months.

The department said yesterday that average farm product prices went down nearly 1 per cent between mid-September and mid-October.

In the Democratic-Republican battle for the farm vote, this new development could be significant. That leaders of both parties are aware of this was shown in conflicting statements by Secretary of Agriculture Benson and Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler.

Benson's statement, put out by the department, termed the price decline "slight." The secretary also said it was a movement normal in the fall when heavy marketings are in progress. Benson also said farm income for the full year should average 4 per cent above last year because of larger production in 1956.

Pilot Was Buffeted Before Fatal Crash

Edwards, Calif., Oct. 31 (AP)—A camera mounted in the cockpit of the Bell X-2 rocket plane shows that Capt. Milburn G. Apt received a violent buffeting before he was killed in the crash of the experimental plane.

Photographs of the last moments of flight of the needle-nosed craft that holds the world's speed and altitude records were released yesterday by the Air Force.

They show that Apt, who was making his first flight in the plane, was thrown about the cockpit when he went into a turn after pushing the X-2 to a record speed of 2,200 MPH.

The film shows Apt reaching for the handle to detach the cockpit capsule from the rest of the plane. He was unable to eject himself from the cockpit, however, and it smashed to earth with him inside.

Maybe you've already found that it's easier to roll out your pie crust on wax paper. To keep the paper from sliding, just wipe your table or counter with a damp cloth. Then the wax paper will remain firm.

There's nothing quite so satisfying as turning out your very own extra-special home baking. It's your individual touch that counts—and wins your family's praise.

And Heckers' certainly makes the difference. Good bakers always start with the basic fundamentals—and there's nothing more basic than Heckers' flour. Heckers' is UNBLEACHED and NATURALLY WHITE—because it is allowed to turn its own snowy white under nature's careful attention. But despite its careful production, Heckers' costs no more than other flours. That's why economy goes hand-in-hand with fuller flavor, better texture, and finer appearance—when you bake with Heckers'.

How about this Fall "quick-and-easy" to bring the family back for more: Slice generous portions of canned corned beef hash, top each with a tomato slice, and sprinkle freely with grated cheese. Broil until the cheese is melted and the hash is thoroughly warmed.

And here's an old fashioned Brown and White Marble Cake that probably was one of your grandmother's favorites.

Brown & White Marble Cake

Ingredients for Chocolate Batter
1 ounce chocolate
1/4 cup sugar

Speakers Address P-TA Council on Consolidation

The P-TA Council met Monday night with David Kline, a Board of Education member and County Judge Louis G. Bruhn, as speakers on the topic of consolidation and financial implications.

Mr. Kline pointed out the immediate urgency of a new junior high school "if we are to avoid penalizing our city students by running double sessions or if we are to avoid having to refuse to accept the some 1,400 rural area students; 900 of these 1,400 who are in the high school, 300 who are in the junior high and 200 who are in the elementary grades."

Sees Need of School

"Even without consolidation," said Mr. Kline, "Kingston needs the proposed $4 million junior high school on the Dietz Stadium grounds. With consolidation, another junior high would be needed to accommodate all junior high students from Kingston as well as from the 30 outlying districts and it is estimated that within 4 to 6 years both junior high schools would be completely filled."

Judge Bruhn said that the population growth in and around Kingston is making itself felt in local schools. He said this year the city lost 350 pupils to the new Chambers School in District 8, but Kingston gained many more than this figure to the city schools. Next year's figures show 225 more students already to the 9-12 grades, which means quite a shifting around in the various schools to accommodate them. A total of 125 ninth graders or four classes will have to go to the MJM School; three more seventh grade classes will have to be added to the George Washington School and 100 students will have to go to the four new rooms being added to the Vocational Building that is expected to be ready by next Sept. 1.

Mr. Kline defined centralization to be the merging of rural districts around the city; consolidation to mean the city school district enlarging to absorb schools around it which would be known as the Greater Kingston Area. Since 1952, 10 other cities in New York state have formed just such Greater Areas. The State Education Department opposes centralization and favors consolidation on the basis that education for all students everywhere could be improved and made uniform, children receiving the same, richer training under the jurisdiction of one Board of Education and one School System.

Judge Bruhn said that it was natural to approach the problem in terms of dollars and cents, meaning the new tax rate to be expected from expansion, but he felt it should try to resolve this educational problem by what is to be gained in education with improved facilities and richer curriculum.

Mr. Kline mentioned briefly how the rural areas can consolidate. A group petitions the Commissioner of Education who has laid out the program of consolidation. He has the right to include or exclude any district depending upon his feeling of their interest to join. Then it is put to a vote of the people with 50 per cent constituting a majority. He further said that the Education Law of the Kingston Board of Education gives them the right to pass on consolidation, but the Board has recently gone on record to put consolidation up to the eligible city voters.

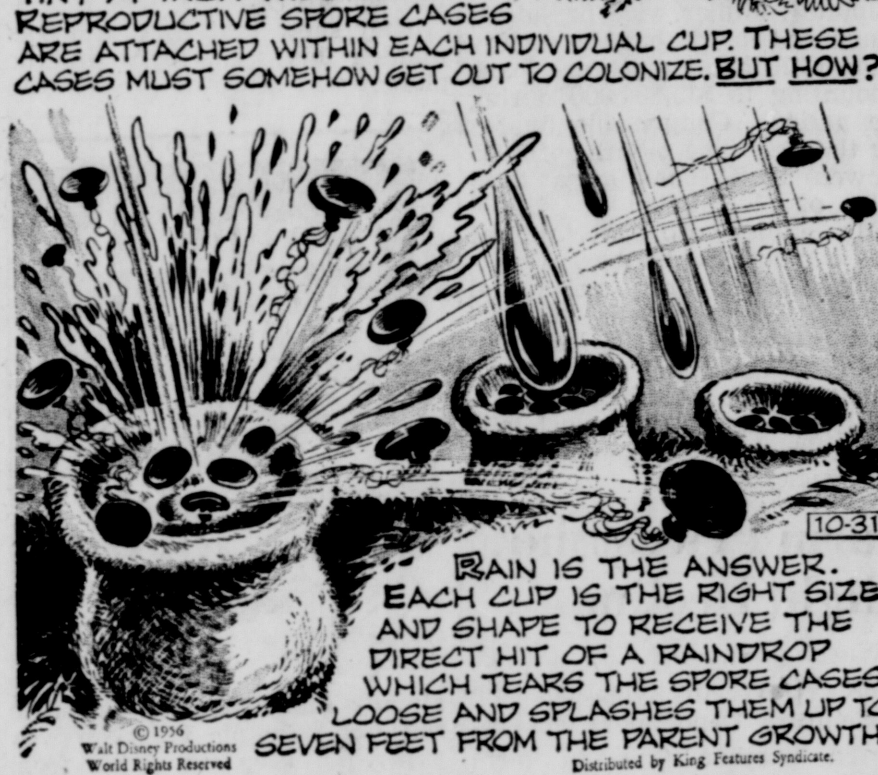

Would Have One Board

Under the consolidation plan, instead of the existing 30 Boards of Education, there would be but one Board of Education consisting of nine members. This fact creates dissatisfaction with many rural areas because they feel that perhaps the balance might be unfavorable to their areas in representation on the Board of Education and they would consequently lose touch with their educational program. Mr. Kline explained that as the term of each member of the present Board of Education expired, elections to replace him would be held at regular school election time from whole area. And at the end of a five year period there would be a completely new elected school board. To be put up for vote as a candidate for a board member, one has to secure petition from 100 people.

The only other possible objection to consolidation from the rural areas, Mr. Kline mentioned, might be from those who have enjoyed rather low tax rates at the expense of the educational benefits to their children or to few children in a wealthy district.

Would Mean Loss

Mr. Kline told the group that if the rural areas turned down consolidation this year, the state might present it again next year. And if the city turned down consolidation, rural areas would be forced to centralize and educate their own 1,400 and more youngsters usually sent to Kingston. Also Kingston would have a net loss of about half a million dollars if these 1,400 rural students withdrew which would raise taxes higher than they would be raised under the plan of consolidation where assets and liabilities for all schools are pooled together. Also, cutting back the teaching staff, the curriculum for the city schools would have to suffer in such areas as vocational education, agriculture, foreign languages and higher math, penalizing students who need these.

Earl Soper, superintendent of schools, explained the workings of a true ratio which would mean simply that a home in one township assessed the same as a home in another township would pay the same tax.

A business meeting followed led by President Mrs. Raymond Gilkey. The projects' committee, consisting of Mrs. Guy Valeo, Benjamin Schecter and William Reardon, reported their suggestions for possible council projects for the coming year. It was decided to try to set up and coordinate educational news from all the schools in the city. Mrs. Roger Baer Schwartz, Mrs. Valeo and Mrs. Peter Naccaro were appointed to find out ways and means for accomplishing this. A. J. Boyd and William Sill reported on the plans available for insuring children going to and from school. It was decided to have the various plans presented to each individual P-TA unit by their president, each one deciding what they want to do about promoting and carrying out the idea.

The next meeting of the P-TA Council is scheduled for Monday, Nov. 26, with a presentation of a study of boys and girls in Kingston and Ulster county to discover whether there is a youth problem or not. Mrs. Belle Masell, M. Clifford Miller and Gerald Shampo will be in charge of this program.

Appeals to U. S.

In an angry exchange, Labor leader Hugh Gaitskell shouted: "This is really a fantastic situation. It is the whole house and the whole country which is waiting for an answer to this question."

In what amounted to an appeal for American understanding, the prime minister said: "It is sometimes a government's duty to make decisions for its own country."

The Israelis meanwhile, claimed to have destroyed scores of Egyptian vehicles in air attacks on convoys east of Ismailia, and claimed their forces had reached within 10 miles of the Suez Canal, the "ultimatum" line set by Britain and France.

Claim 10 Planes

Egyptian military headquarters announced it had sent its Soviet-built MIGs into battle today and that they had knocked down 10 Israeli planes. The Egyptians admitted the loss of two of their own planes.

The Egyptians said bombers also had gone into action over Israel's territory and had destroyed and damaged Israeli airfields.

The Israelis announced the capture of an Egyptian 1,000-ton frigate, the Ibrahim Awal which bombarded Haifa port, and the surrender of its 250-man crew.

The Egyptians said the frigate was scuttled by its captain after "successfully completing its mission." The high command said the Ibrahim Awal developed engine trouble during an attack by three Israeli warships and warplanes and the captain "was forced to sink her."

The Egyptian high command said the Egyptian Air Force was busy all day today pounding Israeli troop concentrations and convoys along the Egyptian frontier and hit 21 trucks full of soldiers, destroying seven of them.

Reports Heavy Fighting

It added that heavy fighting started last night between El Auja, strategic frontier crossroads, and Abou Ogueila (Abu Awugila), 15 miles to the west. The Israelis attacked three times in an unsuccessful effort to break through Egyptian positions and "fighting is continuing," the communique said.

The Abou Ogueila position indicated the Israeli's had expanded their attack to the north and west, possibly to cut off the Gaza Strip. Abou Ogueila is about 15 miles north and west of Qusama, which the Israelis have claimed to have captured, and about 80 miles north of Kuntilla. It is only about 10 miles southwest of the Gaza Strip border.

Egypt said four medium tanks of the Israeli force were put out of action in the three Israeli attacks which took place yesterday afternoon, at midnight last night and again at 4 a. m.

Altogether, the communique said, the Egyptian Air Force hit 15 armored cars and tanks, destroyed 9 Israeli trucks filled with soldiers, and inflicted damages and casualties among 34 other trucks in troop and supply convoys.

Egypt rejected a demand from London and Paris that the Israeli-Egyptian fighting cease by 6:30 a. m. (11:30 p. m. EST Tuesday) and troops be pulled back 10 miles from each side of the Suez to let the European troops into the canal zone "temporarily" to keep the canal open even if either country rejected the ultimatum.

Reliable Egyptian sources said up to 11:30 a. m. no foreign troops had landed in the canal zone.

Sinai Area Quiet

The Israeli Army reported all quiet on the fighting front in the Sinai peninsula and claimed it had units 10 miles from the Suez Canal—at the line set by the British and French.

The Egyptian Army claimed it was in control of the military situation.

Fighting flared, however, at sea and in the air. Just off Haifa Israeli naval ships and planes attacked a 1,000-ton Egyptian frigate trying to shell the Israeli port. The duel ended in the surrender of the Egyptian ship and its crew of 250.

Israeli also reported shooting down four Egyptian planes today.

An atmosphere of excitement and expectancy gripped London, and most British papers said action signals were flashed to troops and warships before the 6:30 a. m. ultimatum ran out.

Cairo was calm. But the British embassy began burning its secret files in the embassy compound. "This is the normal procedure any embassy would take whenever military action appears to be forthcoming."

Backward Finesse Averts Disaster

BY OSWALD JACOBY

Written for NEA Service

Desperation caused South to adopt the winning line of play in today's hand. His play was against the odds, but he could see nothing else that would permit him to make his contract.

West opened the six of hearts, and dummy won at once with the ace. Dummy's king of spades held the next trick, but West took the second spade trick with the ace and led another heart. The defenders took the rest of the hearts, ending in the East hand. East then led the eight of clubs.

South had already lost four tricks, and felt sure that West must hold the king of clubs and the queen of diamonds to account for his overall of one diamond. Declarer saw that there could be no advantage in taking the club finesse or in finessing the diamonds normally. Instead, he put up the ace of clubs and led the

Ulster County Legion Drive On for Membership of 2,465

(Signs Legion Proclamation)

The period October 20-November 11 has been designated "American Legion Weeks" in a proclamation signed by Mayor Frederick H. Stang.

The mayor points out that those three weeks, climaxing the Legion's 1957 membership campaign, would culminate in the annual nation-wide observance of Veterans' Day.

Praises Program

He calls attention in the proclamation that "throughout our land American Legion posts by their great work in youth training, in child welfare, in positive Americanism programs, in national security and in rehabilitation fields have proved themselves as dynamic community assets."

In a letter to members of Kingston Post 150 this week, Thomas Bohan, Ulster County American Legion membership chairman, urges its membership to make every effort to reach its post quota of 750.

He calls attention to the slogan of the national commander of the Legion, "It's great to be an American Legionnaire," and urges local membership to "say it and prove it" by securing their 1957 membership cards during "American Legion Weeks."

The quota of the Ulster County American Legion this year is 2,465, an increase of 150.

Mr. Bohan said today that the "objective is to have every post with 100 per cent of its 1956 membership re-enrolled for 1957 before Veterans' Day, Nov. 11, 1956."

The quotas of the various posts in the county are:

Lamouree - Hackett No. 72, 400; Cook-Taylor No. 111, 330; Charles W. Vieby No. 124, 100; Kingston Post 150, 750; Sullivan-Shafer No. 176, 120; Lloyd No. 193, 200; Phoenixia No. 250, 70; Woodstock No. 1026, 100; Rose Sheeley No. 1034, 100; Rosendale-Tillson No. 1219, 70; Esopus No. 1298, 180; Marbletown No. 1512, 70; Olive Memorial 1627, 70, and Town of Ulster No. 1748, 70.

Mr. Bohan points out in a recent letter to county veterans that the honor of membership is for veterans of the following wars: World War I, April 6, 1917, to Nov. 11, 1918; World War 2, Dec. 7, 1941, to Sept. 2, 1945, and Korean Conflict, June 25, 1950, to July 27, 1953.

There was no immediate indication of whether two women members of the project had been evacuated.

The three-year program was launched in cooperation with the U. S. International Cooperation Administration. It was designed to provide advice in agriculture, public health, industry, education and the fishing industry.

American Mothers' Committee Luncheon In Saugerties

Eleven members of the American Mothers' Committee, Inc. together with their president, Mrs. Daniel A. Poling, motored from New York city recently to "Stroomzeit," the home of Mrs. Herman Knaust, Saugerties, for luncheon and to attend the monthly meeting of the board.

Associations of the American Mothers' Committee are organized in every state of the union, the District of Columbia, Alaska, Hawaii and Puerto Rico. These form a direct channel of communication for reaching the homes in local communities.

Their object is to develop and strengthen the moral and spiritual foundations of the American home and to give to the observance of Mother's Day, a spiritual quality which highlights the concept of ideal motherhood, and emphasizes the important role of the mother in the home, the community, the nation and the world.

The high point of the committee's activities centers in their selection of the Mother of the Year and the recognition of her greatness at the annual awards luncheon at the Waldorf-Astoria, which is usually held on the Friday preceding Mother's Day.

Representing the organization in this section are Mrs. Herman Knaust and Mrs. Katherine Crowell of Stroomzeit.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Moak announce the Bar Mitzvah of their son, Jeffrey, Friday at 7:45 p. m. in Temple Emanuel.

The congregation, relatives, and friends of the family are cordially invited.

A reception will be held following the services.

Mangona-Vernoy Nuptials Are Held

Miss Virginia June Mangona, daughter of Mrs. Rose Mangona, 74 Oak street, Saratoga Springs, became the bride of Arnold Vernoy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Vernoy, Monticello, in a ceremony performed Oct. 14 at 2:30 p. m. in St. Peter's Church, Saratoga Springs, by the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Daniel R. Burns, pastor.

Wedding music was provided by Miss Eileen Hayner, organist, and Mrs. Edward Shea, soloist. Given in marriage by her brother, Carl Mangona, the bride wore a gown of lace and nylon with a nylon veil attached to a queen's crown. She carried a prayer book with an orchid and streamers of baby's breath.

Miss Jeanette Capone, cousin of the bride, was maid of honor. Her gown was of gold net over taffeta. The bridesmaids, Miss Catherine Capone, cousin of the bride, and Miss Connie Foley, were similarly gowned in hunter green. They all carried bouquets of seasonal flowers.

Nancy Mangona, niece of the bride from Ballston Spa, served as flower girl and was attired in a white lace gown with ruffled skirt. The ringbearer was Carl Anthony Mangona, nephew of the bride.

Best man was Ralph Brasington, Monticello. Frank Mangona, brother of the bride, and Wesley Crawford, Wurtsboro, ushered. A reception followed the ceremony after which Mr. and Mrs. Vernoy left on a wedding trip to Washington, D. C.

For travel, the bride wore a light brown dress suit with dark brown accessories and an orchid corsage. On their return they will reside at 296 Wall street.

Mrs. Vernoy, who attended Saratoga Springs High School has been employed at Thomson's Laundry. Her husband is employed by IBM in Kingston.

St. Mary's Civics Club Receives Official Charter

The St. Mary's Civics Club of St. Mary's School this week received its official charter from the Commission on American Citizenship in Washington, D. C.

The charter formally recognizes affiliation of the local unit with the national organization headquarters at the Catholic University of America. Pupils of Grade 8 comprise the local club membership.

The officers of the newly organized club are Joseph Cavano, president; Mary O'Reilly, vice-president; Carol Martensen, recording secretary; Woodrow Diehl, corresponding secretary and John McGinnis, sergeant-at-arms.

St. Mary's Civics Club is one of the thousands of Catholic Civics Clubs chartered in the United States for the express purpose of "fostering training for good citizenship."

Through monthly projects and study of articles featured in the national Catholic weekly for students of the upper elementary grades, "The Young Catholic Messenger," these young citizens learn in a concrete way the meaning of Christian social living based on principles of justice and charity.

This year the program of study and action will develop the timely theme, "It's Your Government." The program will encourage interest in local and national government affairs.

College Community Symphony Orchestra Invites Mid-Hudson Musicians to Join

The College Community Symphony Orchestra of the State University Teachers College at New Paltz has now completed its first month of activity of the 1956-57 season and is turning its attention toward the preparation of a program scheduled for Dec. 10 in the college auditorium. An invitation to join the orchestra is being extended at this time to all instrumentalists in the Mid-Hudson area who are interested.

"We are always looking for modestly capable string players," said Dr. O. Lincoln Igou, College professor of Humanities, who is director of the group. "In the eleven years that we have worked together," he said, "the organization has grown to approximately 50 amateur and professional musicians."

Musicians drive regularly from surrounding communities to the Tuesday evening rehearsals, and some make round trips of 30 to 60 miles or more each week. Regularity and enthusiasm for good music are just as important, if not more so, than a virtuoso technique on one's instrument," Dr. Igou said.

The orchestra functions through the cooperation of the State University Teachers College at New Paltz and members, as well as the guest soloists and the director, contribute their services to this organization. At present there are openings for string players and a limited list of wind instruments, especially trumpets, trombones, and clarinets. However, Dr. Igou said, because of the limit of two instruments each in most of the latter categories, players need to have relatively good control of their instruments. Any new members in this area who are interested in the work of the orchestra, are invited to come to the next Tuesday rehearsal from 7:15 to 10 p. m. in the music room of the college auditorium.

"It doesn't make any difference if you are young or old, either in years or in the community," Dr. Igou explained.

Trading Stamps Are Saved by 40 Million Families

Washington, Oct. 31 (AP)—If you are saving trading stamps received when you buy something at a store, you have plenty of company. An estimated 40 million American families are doing the same thing.

If you are in business and you're giving stamps with sales of goods, you have plenty of company too. An estimated 150,000 to 200,000 retailers now are using stamp plans.

In either case you are doing what your grandparents may have done for the idea of giving trading stamps to promote sales is about 60 years old. It has been used since the 1890s with varying popularity.

Big Increase in Five Years

There has been a tremendous increase in the last five years.

This data, gleaned from private industry sources was summarized today in a Commerce Department bulletin on trading stamps. Its purpose—to tell smaller businessmen of the advantages and disadvantages.

The department said its figures are not official since no overall census of the plans have been made. However, the Federal Trade Commission (FTC) currently is looking into the question of whether use of stamp plans constitutes unfair competition.

The promotion program was said to have spread to all states, with Utah, Kansas and North Dakota the only ones that have passed measures limiting the use of stamps.

What Surveys Show
The Commerce Department said its surveys also disclosed: More than 400 trading stamp companies currently are doing a total business of 600 million dollars a year.

The most popular ratio is one stamp for each 10 cents of purchases. Generally the stamps are pasted in books typically having spaces for 1,200 to 1,500 stamps. The average article for which consumers may turn in one stamp book is valued at $3.40 at retail. Since this number of stamps represents somewhere around $130 in purchases, the consumer gets the equivalent of about a 2.7 per cent premium.

Run $750 Million
The premiums redeemed yearly are estimated to have a value of from 500 to 750 million dollars.

As for retailers, the commerce publication said private surveys indicate the cost of a typical stamp plan is about 2 to 3 per cent of a store's total business. It said this means a gain in sales volume of around 25 per cent is needed to make the use of a plan profitable.

The study concludes that the stamp plans to have value in increasing volume, but it says they are "not a cure-all . . . crutch or panacea for inefficient merchandising."

SLOGAN FOR CYO WEEK—Officials and members of Catholic Youth Organization units in Ulster county are shown in front of billboard at Broadway and McEntee street calling attention to National CYO Week, celebrated Oct. 28 to Nov. 4. (l-r) Leo Schupp, county director; Richard Hinkley, chairman of the county CYO lay committee; Raymond Schatzel, president of St. Peter's CYO; the Rev. William V. Reynolds, moderator of St. Peter's CYO, and CYO members, Anne Lamb, Eileen Heins, Robert Radel, Maureen Costello and Donald Hamersley. The Rev. Joseph D. Ostermann, pastor of St. Peter's Church, said at a Holy Hour on Sunday, that Hitler and the Communists realized the importance of youth indoctrination. "We are doing the same," he said, "except that our cause is the cause of Christ and the redemption of mankind." (Freeman photo).

Driver Is Held On Two Counts After Collision

John Williams, 43, of 32 East Union street, was arrested on two charges early Tuesday night following a two-car collision in the hamlet of Creek Locks.

The arrest was by Trooper Raymond Kowalsky of the Kingston state police on charges of failing to keep right and as an unlicensed operator. The summons is returnable tonight before Justice of the Peace Raymond LeFever of Bloomington.

Trooper Kowalsky said Mr. Williams, proceeding south on the Creek Locks road in a 1948 pickup truck, was in collision with a 1941 sedan operated by Frederick Selter, 73, RD 1, Box 19, Rosendale, traveling north. The pickup truck was partly in the northbound lane, according to the trooper. A tool box on the left side of the truck caught the left rear fender of the sedan and ripped it, it was reported.

3 Hurt in Crash Are Reported Good

Three persons injured in a three-car collision early last Saturday morning on Route 32 near Tillson were reported in "apparently good" condition today at Kingston Hospital.

They are Elizabeth Ann Foley, 18, New Paltz, Charles Church, 23, Tillson, an IBM student, and Robert Johnson, 17, Hurley.

Donald B. VanKleeck, 18, RD 2, New Paltz, who suffered lacerations of the chin and possible chest injuries, has been discharged from the hospital. Donald James Deitz, 21, Cementon, was treated at the hospital for a laceration of the forehead but not admitted.

The collision involved a sedan operated by Mr. Van Kleeck, a 1953 sedan operated by Deitz and a third car operated by Church, according to Kingston state police.

Kyserike Woman's Condition Good

Mrs. Robert Templeton, 28, of Kyserike, who was critically injured in a two-car collision on Route 52 near Greenfield Park on Oct. 19, was reported in "apparently good" condition today at Kingston Hospital.

Mrs. Templeton reportedly suffered a possible lung puncture, a fractured jaw and lacerations of the face in the accident.

She was injured when a car operated by her husband, proceeding east on Route 52 on a slight downgrade, swerved to avoid a deer. The car struck the deer, swerving into the westbound lane where it was in a head-on collision with a car operated by Winfred Brown, 47, Greenfield Park.

Schleuter Youth Reported Improving

The condition of Peter Schleuter, 15, of Hopewell Junction, who was accidentally shot by his nine-year-old brother October 12, is reported in good condition and "improving" at Highland Hospital, Beacon.

The youth was taken to the hospital in serious condition after a .22 caliber bullet had passed through his chest just above his heart.

Peter had loaded the gun and set it against a tree in the Schleuter backyard while he went to set up a target. The younger brother, not realizing that the rifle was loaded, picked it up, cocked it and fired. Fish-kill state police said the older brother walked into the line of fire.

A famous man was the dinner guest of an over-solicitous hostess who kept insisting to the point of annoyance that he had no appetite, that he was eating scarcely anything, etc., etc. Wearied at last by this persistent chatter, the man spoke up impressively, "Madam, allow me to assure you that though I sometimes eat more than at other times, I never eat less."

Young Man (to friend)—Miss Shapely is very particular about her clothes, and makes a special point of always dressing appropriately. For instance, when she goes walking, she wears a walking suit; when she goes riding, she wears a riding habit; if she goes out in the evening, she wears evening clothes.

Friend (interrupting gleefully)—Boy, oh boy! I'm going to give a birthday party and invite Miss Shapely.

The man rushed excitedly into the next car! Has anybody got any whisky?

Instantly a half-dozen pints and half pints were thrust out to him. Taking the nearest one, he turned the bottle up and took a big drink, then handing the bottle back, said:

Man—Thank you. It always did make me feel sick to see a lady faint.

Saugerties Will Open Cage Season Nov. 27

Windham First Rival on Schedule

Saugerties High School will open its 1956-57 18-game basketball schedule Nov. 27 at home against Windham High.

The Sawyers will follow up with three home engagements before playing on a foreign court Dec. 13 against Walkill. The slate calls for the regular 12 games in the Ulster County Athletic League (UCAL) and six non-loop tussles.

Other Non-Loop Tills
Besides Windham, the Sawyers will face Hunter-Tannersville, Cossack, Catskill and Arlington in non-league action. Only the tilt with Catskill will be a two game series.

Saugerties finished second to Kerhonkson in the UCAL last season. The Sawyers lost the title in a dramatic playoff, first in the history of the UCAL, to Kerhonkson on the Ontario Central floorboards.

Saugerties captured 19 games including its first 15, and lost just three. Two of the setbacks were at the hands of Kerhonkson and the other by Clarkstown Central.

Sectionals Semi-Finals
The loss to the Rams was in the semi-finals of the Sectionals at Middletown. Clarkstown then lost in the finals to Haverstraw. Coach Bud Smith has set Nov. 5 as the initial day for practice. That will give the Sawyers about three weeks to get set for their opener.

Highland will supply the first league opposition Dec. 7 at Saugerties. Other loop rivals will be Kerhonkson, Wallkill, Marlboro, Highland and Ontario.

The slate lists only 10 Friday night games. The rest of the contests will be played on Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday.

The schedule:

Black Hawks Cop First Win 4-0

By The Associated Press
The last-place Chicago Black Hawks of the National Hockey League emerged with their first victory of the season last night in the loop's only action.

Spurred by the fine defensive play of goalie Al Rollins, the Hawks shut out the Boston Bruins 4-0. The victory marked the Hawks' first triumph in eight games.

Eddie Litzenberg scored twice, Johnny Wilson and rookie Forbes Kennedy once each to lead the Chicago attack.

The victory moved the Black Hawks to within two points of fifth-place Montreal. Boston remains in fourth.

Detroit continues to lead the league with 12 points followed

Oklahoma Strong Pick To Continue Rolling

BY HAROLD CLAASSEN

New York, Oct. 31 (AP)—The 1957 edition of the Farmers Almanac is at hand. It predicts a long, cold winter. No matter how cold it gets, the chill won't equal that of last weekend when football teams paid no attention to the script and spilled upsets everywhere.

There were 14 wrong guesses sandwiched among the 34 correct ones, an average of .708. That brought the season's total to 206-63 and .765.

Nothing But Sunshine
Heading into this week, just as if the Almanac promised nothing but sunshine:

Oklahoma over Colorado: Colorado annually gives Oklahoma its hardest Big Seven battle. That probably will be true again this time but it still will be easy for the Sooners.

Georgia Tech over Duke: Coach Bill Murray says his team has a good chance to derail the Engineers. The Almanac discloses that Tech gets stronger in November.

Tennessee over North Carolina: Primarily because of John Majors.

Other games:

Spartans Over Badgers
Michigan State over Wisconsin, Texas A & M over Arkansas, Ohio State over Northwestern, Michigan over Iowa, Minnesota over Pittsburgh, Miami over Florida State, Stanford over UCLA, Clemson over Virginia Tech, West Virginia over George Washington, Texas Christian over Baylor, Syracuse over Penn State.

Skipping over the others in a hurry:

Friday Night
Boston College over Villanova.

Saturday

EAST: Army over Colgate, Holy Cross over Boston University, Columbia over Cornell, Harvard over Pennsylvania, Notre Dame over Navy, Princeton over Brown, Yale over Dartmouth.

MIDWEST: Cincinnati over Detroit, Indiana over Marquette, Iowa State over Drake, Kansas over Kansas State, Missouri over Nebraska, Purdue over Illinois, Houston over Wichita, College of Pacific over Tulsa.

Georgia Over Alabama

SOUTH: Georgia over Alabama, Florida over Auburn, South Carolina over Furman, Mississippi over LSU, Kentucky over Maryland, Tulane over Mississippi State, William & Mary over VMI, Vanderbilt over Virginia, Wake Forest over North Carolina State.

SOUTHWEST: Rice over Utah, Texas Tech over Oklahoma A & M, Southern Methodist over Texas.

FAR WEST: California over Oregon, West Texas State over Arizona, Montana State over Montana, Oregon State over Washington, Wyoming over Utah State, Southern California over Washington State.

Howell Holds Down Professor's Chair At Yankee Stadium

New York (NEA) — With the football Giants now housed in the Bronx, Jim Lee Howell finds himself, after each game, sitting in an old swivel chair, one arm resting on a roll-top desk which highlights the furnishings of the home team manager's office at Yankee Stadium.

After his club's first two home victories, Howell relaxed in the chair.

"You're a cinch the rest of the way," he was told.

"Glad you're so sure," Howell answered.

"No doubt about it," the other fellow persisted. "I haven't seen a guy sit in that chair who was a loser."

The chair, of course, is the baseball seasonal property of the Yankees' Casey Stengel.

Podres Faces Surgery on Ailing Back

Brooklyn, Oct. 31 (AP)—Johnny Podres, the skinny Yankee killer, revealed today that he faces a spinal operation — but that he's going to pitch as long as possible before going under the knife.

The 24-year-old Brooklyn Dodgers' lefthander who beat the New York Yankees twice in the 1955 World Series, was discharged from the navy less than a week ago, but he already has taken an off-season job as an automobile salesman close to Ebbets Field.

"I'll go as far as I can before I get the operation," said Podres. "I certainly don't want it now. Maybe I can go a year and maybe I can go five before it becomes a necessity. The doctors can't make a better estimate."

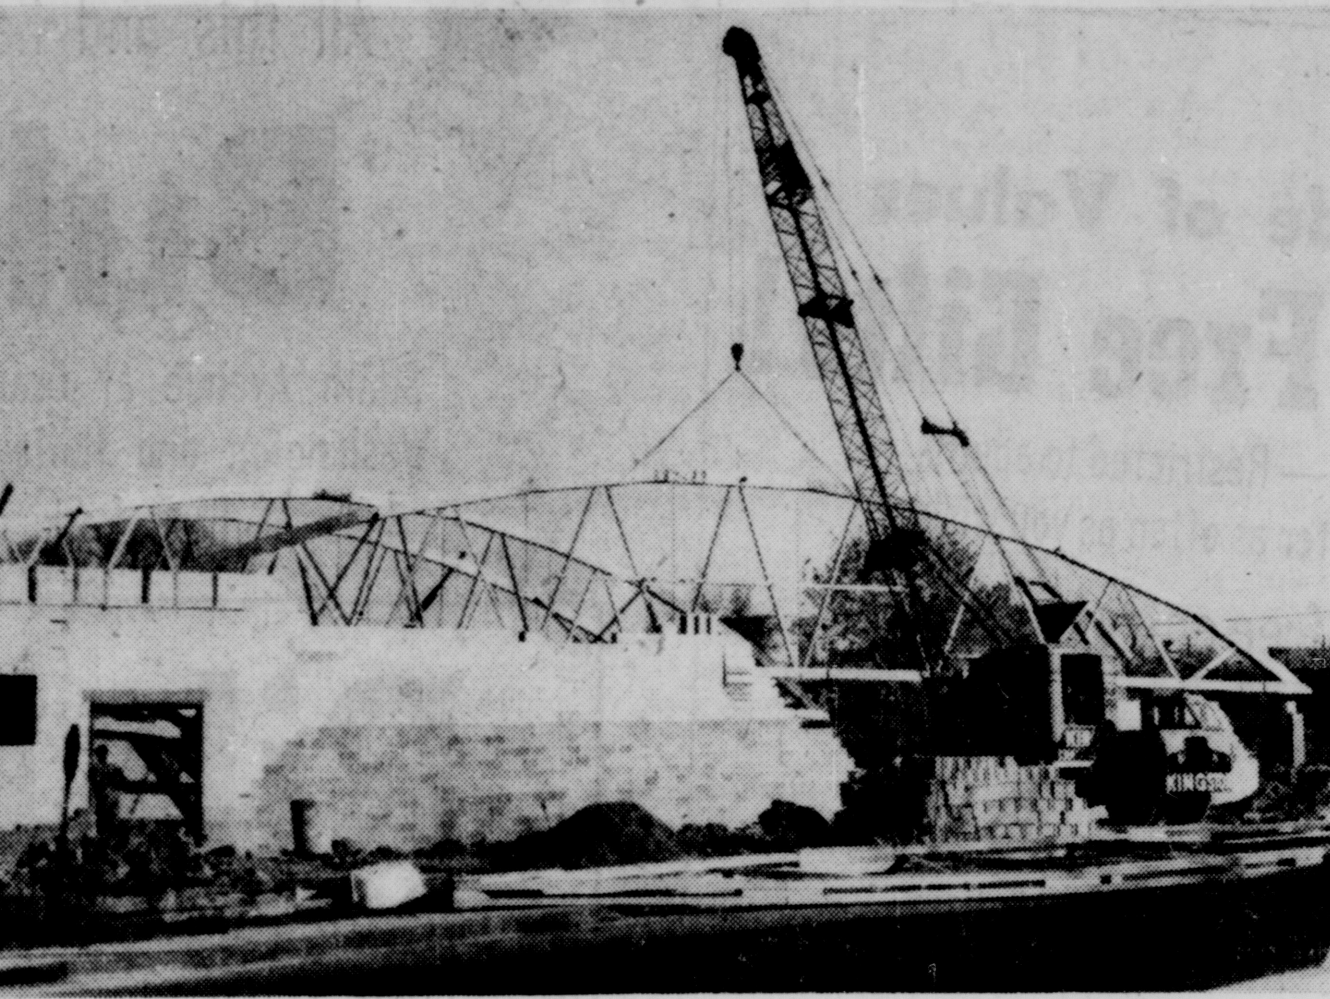

Podres suffers from spondylitis, a disintegration of the small bones which link the spinal column with the body. He's had the ailment almost all his life.

He said that when he was taken into the navy last March he was put on limited duty. In his hitch of slightly over seven months, he drilled just about one hour.

"After I left Bainbridge and my boot training," he recalled, "I was sent to the Norfolk naval base and I really didn't do much except pitch when I was able. I guess I got in about 80 innings, but it wasn't very good baseball."

"Starting on Sept. 19, I was in the hospital for five weeks. During that time, they gave me heat treatments and back strengthening exercises. I watched the series from there."

Podres pointed out that his miseries have troubled him all through his baseball career.

BOWLING SCORES

Ben Marcus rolled high series of 577 in the Good Neighbor League last night, but the real story was Miron Lumber's 2613 for a new league team triple mark. He hit 209-196-172.

HERMANN UNDERTAKERS THROW IN THE SPONGE

After 25 glorious years, the Hermann Undertakers did field a team in St. Louis this season. Cone Hermann one of the real old men of bowling, is broken hearted about it, but said he no longer has the time to compete on the same high level. The Hermanns hold the all-time league record of 3797, rolled Jan. 27, 1937, in St. Louis. Their 1325 single game on that date still is second best on record. They held the national match game championship, 1938-40, and cashed in 20 of the 21 ABC tournaments since 1933, the last 11 in a row. Another famous lineup calling it quits is the Fanatorium Majors of Grand Rapids, Mich.

Washington Wants That 'Senator' Tag

Washington, Oct. 30 (AP)—Call 'em what you will. Washington's baseball team is now officially the "Senators."

Club President Calvin Griffith announced the re-christening today with this pronouncement:

"We feel that 'Senators' has dignity. As the 'Nats,' they've banded around the second division for the last ten seasons."

Giants Sign Hank Sauer

The New York Giants announced the signing of Hank Sauer, 37-year-old veteran outfielder, yesterday.

Sauer, who broke into major league ball with Cincinnati in 1941, was released by the Cardinals at the end of 1956 season.

The big slugger went from Cincinnati to the Cubs in 1949 and last spring was traded to the Cardinals. He batted .298 in seventy five games last season. He was voted the most valuable player in the National League in 1952 when he hit 37 homers and batted in 121 runs.

Sports Car Hill Climb Set Sunday at Bear Mt. Bridge

A sports car hill climb race, first of its kind ever held in the metropolitan area, will be staged Sunday, Nov. 4, at 10 a. m., three miles north of the Bear Mountain bridge.

Fifty of the best drivers in the east are expected to compete on "Clubbank Hill," a mile-long, hard clay surface strip with 20 curves overlooking the Hudson and the Bear Mountain bridge.

Among the top contenders for the Gilbert Trophy for the fastest time of the day will be Gaston Andrey of Newton, Mass., who in the past two years has earned the distinction of being the most successful driver of the 2000 CC cars.

Other Stars Listed
Other leading drivers include Bill Rutan, driving a Lester MG with the standard No. 32 which has been seen at almost every hill climb in the east. Gordon MacKenzie of Millbrook will be competing in his 36th event in the same Jaguar that has a total of some 92,000 miles of well-driven races recorded on it. John Norwood of the New York city area will drive his famous Arnolt Bristol that has competed in two Sebring (Fla.) events.

A wire fence has been placed the entire length of the hill as protection for spectators. NBC's Monitor will broadcast the results of the climb.

Woodstock Vees Add Height; Set Opener in Three Weeks

The area's leading independent basketball squad will be able to floor a team of five six-foot plus starters when it launches the 1956-57 campaign late in November.

Coach Walter S. Van Wageningen, who doubles as principal of the Woodstock School, today announced a refurbished roster, with a heavy emphasis on village talent.

Principal newcomers are Ron McCrindle, 6-foot-2 former Cortland State Teachers basketball and scorer star; Dave Bailey and Mike Mitchell. All three are regarded as first rate scorers and floor men.

The holdovers include such familiar names as Sam Wilson, graduate of the U. S. Military Academy who now flies jet planes; Pete Koehn, Bill Waterous, Richie Hilton and Sonny Simmons.

Younger members of the squad are Richard Frodsham, Cory Freer, Alan Van Wagenen and Richard Kullman.

New Assistant Coach
Coach Van Wagenen said that McCrindle would serve as assistant coach.

Over the years, the Woodstock Varsity has compiled a standout record against the best competition in the mid-Hudson area. The team has undergone several changes in format, but Coach Van Wagenen hinted that the practice of importing out of town name players has been abandoned forever.

"With the kids in our own town and the help of the good looking newcomers, we think we can field a representative team. We will have more opportunities to work out as a unit and I think the results of the extra practice will show up in our games," Van Wagenen said.

The Varsity will probably open against the Monticello Chiefs, a traditional first night opponent.

Meanwhile, the Varsity would like to hear from all mid-Hudson teams interested in booking games. The Woodstock booking manager is Alan Van Wagenen, phone Woodstock 2532.

Logart-Harris Bout Is Signed

Chicago, Oct. 31 (AP)—Cuba's Isaac Logart will meet Clarence (Duke) Harris, of Detroit, in a ten-round welterweight bout to be televised nationally from the Chicago Stadium, Nov. 7.

The bout replaces the Carlo Sarlo vs. Joe Miceli bout which was moved up from Nov. 7 to tonight in place of the cancelled Willi Hopenner-Chuck Spieser match.

Ramblers Tip Wimpy's In Squeaker

The Ramblers handed Backs No. 2 its second defeat in the YMCA 'B' basketball league, 35-34, last night.

The Yellow Jackets trimmed Wimpy's No. 2, 50-45, and McCloskey's downed Boulevard Gulf, 45-38, in other action.

As the final score indicates, the Ramblers game was tightly played and was in doubt right to the end. Backs carried a slim 16-14 lead into the second half, but were edged out when the victors tallied 22 points to 18.

Johnson High
Dave Johnson scored 15 in a losing cause to lead everyone while teammate Bill Marks chipped in with 11. Vince Hart's 13 points was high for the Ramblers.

Bucky Miller, Dolly Medley and John Burris pooled their points to pace the Yellow Jackets to victory. Miller rimmed 14 and the other pair 10 each.

Ron Brandt bucketed 19 for Wimpy's who fell behind 25-10 at halftime and spent the rest of the game trying to get even. Schneider contributed 12.

Boulevard Blow Lead
Boulevard blew a comfortable 24-14 halftime margin as McCloskey's came on with a 31-point second half spurge to pull out the decision. The losers were held to just 14 points during the comeback.

Butch Whalen hooped 12 and Ron Ashdown 10 for McCloskey's whose scoring was very evenly divided. Vince Haines canned 14 and Kelly 11 for Boulevard.

Lopez Names 3 To Coaching Staff

Chicago, Oct. 31 (AP)—Al Lopez formally signed a one-year contract at a reported $40,000 yesterday to manage the Chicago White Sox and immediately named three-fourths of his coaching staff.

Lopez retained first base coach Don Gutteridge and pitching coach Ray Berres from the Marty Marion regime and said he'll bring with him Tony Cucinello from the Cleveland Indians.

Lopez said a fourth coach would be named at a later date. The 48-year-old Lopez who guided the Indians to a pennant in 1954 and finished second to the New York Yankees in his five other seasons at Cleveland, said after contract signing ceremonies that he would remain in Chicago for several days to confer with White Sox vice president Chuck Comiskey on possible deals.

Johnny Lattner's football career is virtually kaput because of a knee injury the Pittsburgh Steeler suffered playing service football . . . and the same pro club is moaning because the same thing happened to Pete Neft, their quarterback of the future. . . .

Speaking of knees, Army is so perturbed about the raft of such injuries that's blighted their brightest prospects (Kyasky, Mikelonis, et al) it is considering a special investigation of the problem. . . .

Lou Little says Claude Benham of Columbia could play quarterback on any college team in the country . . . but the kid didn't think so himself when he started casting around for an education . . . turned down scholarships from Duke and several other schools because he figured he'd be sure to get a chance to play with Columbia. . . .

There's an outstanding halfback among the pros who sought a job in Canada several seasons ago . . . but had to have a newspaperman frame the letter of application for him . . . didn't trust his spelling . . . (he got the job).

Memento of football's curtailed electronic era: the Pittsburgh Steelers were testing their audio equipment at Forbes Field, with quarterback Ted Marchbroda checking the reception in all corners of the gridiron . . . upstairs assistant coach Chuck Cherundolo was on the mike, opened a press box window and shouted down anxiously: "What do you hear?" . . . Marchbroda wagged, "Hear? I hear Italy. . . . And they're asking how their little boy Cherundolo is doing!"

Jimmy Brown of Syracuse is a great back, but his football future is not better than that of the other Orange halfback, Jim Riddle . . . who's more versatile (passes, catches passes, punts and is the team's best defender) . . . and runs just as well in an open field.

Post-Series note: As the Brooklyn Dodgers boarded the plane to take off for Japan, from the loudspeaker crackled this greeting: "Welcome, Brooklyn Dodgers. Our crew consists of Larsen. . . . P.S.—Larsen was the stewardess. . . . Caught the real Larsen tagging around Manhattan with agent Frank Scott and yawning at mid-day: "I just gotta go back to the hotel and get some sleep." . . . This from the kid who's supposed never to want any. . . .

One young center was literally run out of pro ball . . . he slugged a Philadelphia Eagle when a fight broke out during the game . . . as the Eagle started to swing back, the lineman turned and ran . . . all the way to his team's clubhouse. . . .

When Paul Brown sought to release halfback Gene Filipiski a few weeks ago, he advised him: "Go on up to Canada for a year and then give up football. You have no future in it." . . . The Giants, who plucked him back from Calgary, consider him the best understudy they've had for their running spots in four years . . . and the reason the Browns wanted to see him out of the country was that the Philadelphia Eagles claimed him when waivers were asked.

Rocky Marciano's about to lend his name to an east side bistro in New York . . . although he'll have no money invested in it. . . . Ever wonder how a fellow named Tom Harp goes from a high school coaching job in Ohio to backfield aide at West Point? . . . the story is that Red Blaik sent an assistant out to interview another man for the job. . . . He ran into Harp at a coaching clinic, was so impressed with his football acumen that he wired Blaik: "Other fellow okay, but would rather harp on Harp." . . .

"Between you'n me, the National Football League has kayoed all future lend-lease arrangements . . . like the one where the Bears lend defensive end Ed Meadows to the Steelers last year . . . and yanked him back to Chicago this fall. . . .

Kaline Placed On Second Team

New York, Oct. 31 (AP)—Detroit's Al Kaline, who barely missed making the Associated Press major league All-Star team, selected yesterday by a vote of the Baseball Writers Assn. of America, was dropped from the second team listing through an error in tabulating.

Kaline received 79 votes, ranking fourth and losing out as a first team member when Boston's Ted Williams collected 83.

In copying the tabulations, the Associated Press inadvertently omitted Kaline's name from the second team and included Frank Robinson of Cincinnati, who actually was seventh in the balloting for the outfielders.

Chiefs Century Foe, 150 to 138

Ontera Central school gym was the scene of some high powered scoring action as the Ontera Chiefs outlasted Boulevard Gulf, 150-138.

The basketball game is a weekly feature at the Boiceville court and is part of the adult education program conducted at the school.

As might be guessed, the boys didn't play regulation time, but instead went until they were all puffed out.

Scoring heroes were many. Leading the parade for the Chiefs was Grant with 41 points. Foster with 31 and OCS athletic director Ed Witko with 30.

Vince Hainer topped the losers with 39, Jim Massa rimmed 34 and Joe Tremper 29.

The halftime score had the Chiefs way out in front, 73-48.

Leo Mum On Offer

Los Angeles, Oct. 31 (AP)—Leo Durocher was anything but lippy today about any offer he may have to return to baseball and manage the Cleveland Indians.

"Any statement will have to come from Hank Greenberg," said the former New York Giant manager, who met twice yesterday with Greenberg, the Indians' general manager. He declined to say if the talks would continue today.

Greenberg, visiting here with his friend and former Pittsburgh Pirate teammate Ralph Kiner, was not available for comment. Kiner is now general manager of the Indians' San Diego farm club.

A reliable source told the Associated Press that Durocher, now an NEC executive, was offered a fat salary to take over the Indians, who finished second last season in the American League. But, the source said, Greenberg balked when Durocher also demanded a sizeable chunk of the club's stock.

Durocher has said previously he would never manage again "just for a salary."

After yesterday's first meeting at the Beverly Hills Hotel, Durocher told newsmen he had to talk to his wife, actress Laraine Day, and several NBC officials.

"We were both sounding each other out," Greenberg said after the first meeting. "I want to find out first whether Leo is really interested and if he is, we'll go on from there."

Illinois' Woodson Back of the Week

The Associated Press
His hurdle prowess, put to use in Illinois' stunning 21-13 upset of previously unbeaten Michigan State, today earned Abe Woodson the Associated Press Back of the Week designation.

Woodson, Big Ten hurdle champion and co-holder of the 50-yard record indoors, scored all three Illini touchdowns, two coming on scoring sprints of 70 and 82 yards in the fourth quarter. The victory over the Spartans, the nation's No. 1 team at the time, went into the books as one of the biggest upsets in Big Ten history.

And it was Woodson's hurdle talents which accounted for the winning score.

With the score tied at 13-13 and only five minutes remaining to play, Illinois quarterback Bill Offenbecher decided to "go for broke" with the ball on his own 18-yard line. Offenbecher faded to pass and lobbed a screen pass to the fleet Woodson. Abe took the pitch, avoided a Spartan tackler, streaked nearly horizontally across the field and proceeded toward the Spartan goal.

On the State 30, Art Johnson moved in on Woodson and prepared to make the game-saving tackle. But Woodson leaped, hurdled the defender and completed his TD run.

The Illinois senior had scored earlier on a 2-yard plunge in the third quarter and a 70-yard dash earlier in the last period. In all he amassed 198 of the 386 yards the Illinois offense gained.

Dodgers Sell Ebbets Field

Brooklyn, Oct. 31 (AP)—Ebbets Field, home of the Brooklyn Dodgers for 43 years, has been sold—but the new owner is a member-in-good-standing of the Flatbush faithful.

The Brooks will remain as tenants for the next three years and can continue through 1961 if circumstances dictate.

"However," said Marvin Kratter, a real estate tycoon, who said the purchase price ran into seven figures, "I would never prevent the Dodgers from staying after 1961 if it were necessary and would never stand in their way in any manner."

The Dodgers are hopeful that a new stadium will be built for them by the Municipal Sports Authority by 1961. In fact, if it is finished before that year, the Brooks will move out of Ebbets Field as soon as it is ready.

Kratter plans to convert the property eventually into a commercial-residential center with buildings, stores, parking space and a small community park.

Saugerties Club Protests Change In Trout Streams

A resolution urging legislation to curb highway departments and individuals from altering or changing trout streams was passed by Saugerties Fish and Game Club at the regular meeting held Monday night in R. A. Snyder Fire Company rooms of Saugerties Municipal Building.

The resolution proposes legislation to "prevent further depredations of our trout streams and to protect dwindling water supplies."

The strongly worded resolution said, "The natural resources in the Saugerties area have been and are being destroyed and dissipated by highway departments and individuals with complete disregard of their values. Hardly a stream in the Catskills has escaped these depredations wherever a stream comes close to a highway."

"Most so called flood control measures and much bridge construction work has been executed with little, if any, thought for the intrinsic value of the streams."

Ask Cooperation
The proposed legislation would direct all highway departments to seek the advice and authorization for any stream changes and the use of mechanical equipment in the streams, from a qualified representative of the New York State Conservation Department.

Copies of the resolution will be sent to all departments concerned and to the Federated Sportsmen's Clubs of Ulster County with a request for approval and eventual presentation to the Legislature for action.

Arthur Spier, fish committee chairman, reported that 5,060 Brown and 759 Rainbow trout, both fingerlings and legal size, were stocked in Saugerties area streams in October. His report also indicated that the club is on record requesting the Conservation Department to look into the matter of acquiring public fishing rights on local streams.

Deer Hunt Contest

The membership voted to conduct a deer hunt competition in which members and non-members may participate. Mr. Spier will serve as chairman and will accept registrations until other registration points are announced. The winner will be judged on the greatest number of points on the horns. No weight will be involved. Checking stations will be announced.

New members signed at the meeting were: Sylvester Demskie, Raymond Demskie, Ted Rhymer and Vernon Halwick, all of Kingston; George Marburger, Veteran; Harold Halwick and William Roosa of Lake Katrine; Albert Cutler of Malden; James Zeigler of Quarryville; John W. Pollack, Edmund Striebel, Jacques Rose, William Jackson, Steven Baran, John Huttner, Harold Hommel, Arnold Russell, John Offermann, Louis Mower and Raymond Mower, all of Saugerties.

Following the meeting at which Elden C. Myer presided, refreshments were served and three sound-color movies were shown.

Further Study Needed on New Code for Big 10

Chicago, Oct. 31 (AP)—A special Big Ten committee will need to work further on "vast and complicated" details of a proposed new conference athletic code, the assistant Big Ten Commissioner, Bill Reed, said yesterday.

The group concluded a two-day session devoted to drafting legislation that would standardize aid to conference athletes on the basis of need without any specific progress report.

Another meeting of the six-member committee is scheduled for Nov. 19. The new legislation must be prepared for consideration at the Big Ten meetings here Dec. 5-8.

The specific aim of the new plan is to dispense with work aid programs and various scholarships in favor of outright financial aid as determined by a research agency.

Mexican General Wins Top Trophy In Horse Show

New York, Oct. 31 (AP)—It didn't take Gen. Humberto Mariles long to give the National Horse Show crowds a demonstration of just what they came to see.

The riding master from south of the border teamed with his top mount, Chihuahua II to win the Good Will Challenge trophy, first of the big international events, at the opening of the show last night in Madison Square Garden.

Nor did victory come easy. At the end of the regulation round, Gen. Mariles was tied with Capt. Guillermo Aranda on San Isidro and Roberto Krop up on Simbad—both of Chile—and Ireland's Thomas Morony, riding Bally Nonty.

San Isidro and Simbad were second and third, respectively, while Bally Nonty, who won the event last year, was fourth, the result of two refusals and two knockdowns.

In the matinee low-score competition—the first of a series of three—to be determined by a total low score—Canada's riders finished with 8 faults. Chile was second with 12 and Ireland third with 20.

The United States was fourth with 32 and Mexico, the defender, was fifth with 84. Samuel Soberson caused Mexico's miseries by collecting 40 faults, the result of losing his way twice.

The American team piled up 20 of its 32 faults when Taggs Matador, with Frank Chapot riding, fell on the second jump. Chapot was thrown, but neither horse nor rider was hurt.

Quinn Denies Thomson for Schoendienst Deal

Milwaukee, Oct. 31 (AP)—General Manager John Quinn of the Milwaukee Braves denies there's a deal afoot involving Bobby Thomson and the Giants' Red Schoendienst.

"I never mentioned any names," Quinn said today. "The writers inject the names on their own. It's always been my policy never to discuss names. The league office has sent out orders against it, you know."

Well, then, have you talked trade with the Giants?

"I talked with everybody at the World Series except Brooklyn and the Cubs," he said. "We talked in generalities, more or less like a sounding board, to see if anything can be worked out."

Is a deal on the fire?

"No," Quinn replied, "not at the moment. I have talked with nobody since the World Series. There probably won't be anything to report until the minor league meetings in Jacksonville, Fla., Dec. 3."

Don Candy defeated Neal Fraser, 6-4, 7-5, 6-4, in another quarter-final match.

Utica Man Pleads Innocent to Larceny

Utica, N. Y., Oct. 31 (AP)—Andrew Gambino, 39, of Utica, has pleaded innocent to a charge that he took part of a 31,346-pound shipment of chocolate candy that disappeared in transit.

He was arraigned yesterday on a charge of first degree grand larceny. An examination was set for Friday.

He testified that he had bought seven or eight boxes of candy from an unknown person. Matthew Zenamo testified that he had seen Gambino selling candy in an auto body shop where Zenamo works.

A truck that had been carrying the $23,000 cargo was found abandoned here Oct. 3. The driver has not been located.

The shipment left the W. F. Schrafft & Sons Candy Co. plant at Charleston, Mass., Sept. 19. It was en route to Cleveland.

Government statistics in Mexico show that 800,000 more Mexican babies are born each year than there are deaths.

FACTS OF LIFE
A Republican candidate for political office in Ulster County leads the life of Reilly. After all, the Republican label alone is enough to all but guarantee his election. It's one of the facts of life.
The present Republican Assemblyman knows this well. He knows that Ulster County has never sent a Democrat to the State Assembly. He figures that re-election—and the voters can be taken for granted, no matter what he does in Albany.
His legislative record shows that he doesn't consider it important to answer to the people for his actions. In the past four years, he has compiled a record of indifference and negativism to the needs and welfare of the people. Here are some more examples:

VOTED "NO" ON AID FOR THE AGED
This bill was intended to provide $200,000 in State aid, on a 50-50 basis, for educational and recreational programs in community DAY CARE CENTERS FOR THE AGED. The Ulster County Assemblyman voted "NO" with the Republican majority. However, pressure from the Governor and the public forced them to introduce and pass their own water-down version, which cut the appropriation down to only $50,000—and left out assistance to voluntary and private agencies.

VOTED "NO" ON STATE POWER LINES
This bill would have brought lower electric rates to the consumer. It would have given the State Power Authority the right to build a transmission line to carry electric power from the new St. Lawrence Waterway to the point where it would be sold to the private companies who sell electricity to the consumer.

VOTED "NO" ON ALL-INCLUSIVE MEASURE TO REGULATE FINANCE COMPANIES
Bill No. 2535. Aimed at regulating finance charges and curbing unscrupulous practices in the installment sale of ALL CLASSES OF CONSUMER GOODS. Called for full disclosure of terms, ceiling on carrying charges, no blank spaces on contracts, a written notice of intent to repossess goods at least 10 days in advance, limit on repossession charges, and other safeguards to protect the consumer. DEFEATED BY REPUBLICANS, who then passed their own bill incorporating most of the above features BUT APPLIED THEM ONLY TO AUTOMOBILE SALES. Also, no ceiling was placed on repossession charges. A major blow against the average consumer.

IT'S TIME FOR A CHANGE
Gene Glusker, Democratic Candidate for Assemblyman, wants to restore GOVERNMENT WITH A CONSCIENCE. Mayor Glusker's Village of Ellenville is enjoying what has been called "the most progressive administration in the history of the village." He has initiated many civic improvements in the interests of the people. Gene pledges to support and fight for the liberal measures—like those above—which have been crippled by the present Assemblyman.

4 Retained in Bail

Newton, Pa., Oct. 31 (AP)—Four ex-officials of the Delaware River Joint Toll Bridge Commission were ordered retained in $2,500 bail each for the grand jury yesterday on charges of conspiracy to defraud the state of Pennsylvania. Similar charges against the former deputy controller, W. Willard Schwab, Levittown, Pa., were dismissed. Justice of the Peace Leon H. Milnor, in the last of a series of hearings in the case, continued the bail for Alexander R. Miller, Easton; Leslie Brown, Trenton, N. J.; and R. Chapman Carver, Ivyland, all former commissioners, and Robert A. Haney, Trenton, former controller of the commission.

Vandalism!

That is what we have here in Woodstock during these times on a gigantic scale. Unknown miscreants have wrecked a beautiful home and its furnishings. An oil company has felled trees on property it is going to occupy that were planted here fifty or sixty years ago by one of its most respected citizens now gone from the earth. When we hear that a big corporation is coming to this village to set up business, let's be sure that no two of our garages or service stations sell the same kind of gas, because it looks as though the whole rank and file of the oil industry is going to see that it is represented by some gas pump; and we hardly need any more, and thereby we run less danger of having unlovely things perpetrated on our community, if we can see that the greatest possible number are represented by the ones already here or on the way.

Police Are Told Of Match-Tossers

Firemen answered calls for fires in leaves and brush last night, a false alarm was sounded, and police were notified early today that two persons had been seen in the Ponckhockie area throwing matches from a car. An alarm was sounded for a fire in leaves at East Union street and Lindsley avenue, Box 2231, at 11:04 p. m., and the false alarm was sounded from Box 2421, Delaware avenue and Hanratty street at 1:30 a. m. A call at 8:02 p. m., was for a brush fire near 500 First avenue. The two alarms drew out units from Central station, Cordts and Union hose companies and Wicks Engine Company. Police were notified at 12:28 a. m., that matches had been thrown from a car apparently occupied by two men on East Union street.

Veteran Vols Will Guard Alarm Boxes

Fire Chief James M. Brett announced today that members of the Kingston Veteran Volunteer Firemen's Association, as in other years, will patrol the city's fire alarm boxes tonight as a safeguard against the sounding of false alarms by Halloween pranksters. Firemen in many past years were kept on a merry-go-round of calls on Halloween. The volunteers, several years ago decided to assist in stopping the practice, and the false alarm menace was lessened.

Reds in Full Retreat From Budapest Area

Budapest, Hungary, Oct. 31 (AP)—The Russian retreat from Budapest appeared in full swing today. Soviet tanks—leaving their dead and wounded—headed away under a shower of leaflets from Hungarian air force planes threatening to bomb them if they tarried. Russian armored forces guarding the Danube river bridges withdrew at dawn. Others fell into the lines of retreat throughout the morning. The Hungarian army, now completely on the side of the revolution, trucked in fresh platoons to relieve street patrols of the ragged insurgents. The army took over The Citadel, a fortress commanding the entire city, and ringed it with anti-tank guns.

Rebel anger which had been directed against the Russians was channeled entirely for the moment against remnants of the equally detested Avh, the Red Hungarian secret police. Vengeance hunts for the members of the Avh, which Premier Imre Nagy's government has ordered dissolved, developed all over the revolt-torn city. Unofficial Hungarian sources said 130 secret policemen, captured yesterday in a battle for a Budapest Communist party headquarters, were handed by their heels and beaten to death. A precinct party headquarters was a prime target in the street fighting today.

Eight Inducted By Local Boards

Eight men were inducted into the U. S. Army by local draft boards 18 (city) and 19 (county) Oct. 25, it was announced today. Six were inducted by the county board and two by the city board. The city inductees were Lee Konjas, of 318 Washington avenue, and Vincent C. Post, 69½ Greenkill avenue.

Inducted by the county board were: Stephen M. Shapiro, Box 127, Kerhonkson; Blair Casswell, Bona Venture avenue, Walkkill; William F. Nieffer, 1 Beach street, Saugerties; William N. Wendland, Napanoch; Vincent J. Costello, Route 9W, Port Ewen, and Ronald G. Sleight, Port Ewen.

Women 62 Will

cent of the basic benefit for each month's delay of retirement up to 65.

Social Security officials say a working woman retiring at 62 instead of 65 will be ahead of the game for 15 years. That is, the working woman waiting to retire until 65 at higher benefits will get more out of the social security system only if she lives beyond 77.

Wives Can 'Retire'

Non-working wives of retired workers also now can "retire" at 62. But their monthly payments, supplementing their husbands', will be cut by 25 per cent at 62, and by lesser amounts at 63 or 64. Each month beyond her 62nd birthday that a woman in this group delays filing her claim increases her monthly benefit by 25/36 of one per cent.

As an example, take a retired worker who has an average $200 monthly wage. This entitles him to a $78.50 monthly pension at 65. His wife, by waiting until she, too, is 65 would get a $39.30 monthly benefit, for a combined family pension of $117.80. Her pension on retiring at 62 would be only $29.50, making a $108 combined payment. By retiring at 63 per payment would be $32.80 for $111.30 combined monthly income.

The non-working wife who decides to take her lower benefits at 62 would be better off for 12 years, provided she lives that long, than if she waited for full benefits at 65. If she lives to 75 or older, she would be better off from the standpoint of total payments received—to wait for the higher benefits beginning at 65.

Electric Output Up

New York, Oct. 31 (AP)—The nation's production of electric energy rose slightly last week to a level 6.9 per cent ahead of a year ago, Edison Electric Institute reported today. Electric output in the week ended Oct. 27 totaled 11,391,000,000 kilowatt hours, compared with 11,333,000,000 the week before and 10,659,000,000 in the like week of 1955. All sections showed gains over a year ago, as follows: New England 7.5 per cent, mid-Atlantic 5.5, central industrial 5.6, west central 7.3, southeast 5.9, south central 11.6, Rocky Mountains 8.6, Pacific northwest 10.8 and Pacific southwest 7.88.

For its size (about 10 inches) a weasel is one of the most savage of animals. It will even try to attack the throat of man.

Ike to Address

nounced yesterday and some afterward.

The press secretary declined to say how many messages there have been, or to give any hint as to their content.

Asked about the medium of exchange, Hagerty replied: "The usual diplomatic channels."

No Mollet Answer

Hagerty said Eisenhower has received no reply to the message he dispatched yesterday to Mollet. He added he would have to check on whether Eden had responded to that particular message.

The differences of viewpoint between London and Washington were emphasized by a statement Eden made today in the House of Commons.

He said Britain must protect her own vital interests in the Middle East with or without prior agreement of the United States.

Eden said: "We cannot accept that we have to obtain the agreement of the United States before acting in our own vital interests."

Hagerty was asked whether Israeli Prime Minister, David Ben-Gurion, had replied to two messages Eisenhower sent to him last weekend. In those, the President expressed grave concern over Israeli mobilization and appealed to Ben-Gurion to do nothing "which would endanger the peace."

The first of those messages went out on Saturday and the second on Sunday. On Monday Israeli forces crossed the border into Egypt.

Hagerty said he did not know whether Ben-Gurion had replied—that he would have to check. Hagerty's earlier statement that the United States would stand by its 1950 pledge to assist any victim of aggression while Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles were conferring on the situation.

At another White House meeting, going on simultaneously, key administration officials were discussing what Hagerty called "government problems—studies connected with the current situation in the Middle East." Hagerty said the study was being undertaken at the request of the President. Hagerty declined to provide any details regarding the nature of the problems being surveyed.

There were reports, however, from sources outside the White House that the United States was ready to cut off all economic aid to Israel in a move to force Israeli troops to withdraw from Egypt's Sinai peninsula.

This action, officials said, was part of a series of counter-moves being drafted by the administration in an effort to keep the Israeli-Egyptian clashes from erupting into bigger hostilities in the Middle East.

E. H. Kittle

Frohlich, now retired from the Uptown station several years, and the late James Delaney had been appointed at the same time.

"When I was appointed clerk the first year salary was $600, there was no sick leave, no overtime and no 8-hour day. We worked all day Saturday and quite often on Sunday. It was a straight salary proposition with no overtime. Times have changed since 1908", he said.

During his 48 years of service when since sick leave was permitted, Mr. Kittle has accumulated "almost 300 days" which he has not taken. He reflected he must have been a "pretty healthy" person to accumulate that amount of sick leave.

Of the "old timers" Kittle said he recalled working with many of them, all now retired. This included Gus A. Raschke, a carrier; Lou Reynolds, a clerk; Arthur Frohlich, Charles Johnson, Walter Pettinger and several others.

Kittle said he had no hobby, did not know what he was going to do after Wednesday evening when he became officially retired. "I read a lot, do crossword puzzles but I have no plans in the future," he concluded, except to say he would take it easy at his home, 26 Van Buren street.

Mr. Kittle recently received a citation from Postmaster General A. E. Summerfield together with a personal letter congratulating him on his long term of service and extending to him best wishes from the Department.

an increasing number of firms and institutions subscribe for more than four basic memberships, voting is limited to four votes, regardless of the number subscribed. In addition, several firms subscribe for sustaining support of the Chamber of Commerce program.

Upon election every director represents the entire Chamber of Commerce membership. However, President George J. Silkworth suggests that a broad cross-section of members representing as many phases of business, industry, professions and services as possible be kept in mind in selecting nominees. It was also pointed out that the office of director is becoming increasingly important as our area grows and expands. In addition, the officers are elected from the board of directors.

Salzmann Named President of Ulster Kiwanis

Louis Salzmann was elected president of the Town of Ulster Kiwanis Club at a meeting Tuesday night at the Airport Inn.

Other officers, who will be installed Jan. 1, 1957, include Girard DeVeau, vice president and John Hoffer, treasurer. The office of secretary is an appointive one and will be announced.

Directors elected include Tim Troyan, William Powers, Copeland Gates, Richard Boice, Roger Boice and Harold Macholdt.

It was announced a meeting will be held Saturday morning for committee chairmen previously appointed to the Sportsmen's Show project.

It was agreed that effective Nov. 13 the meeting time will be at 6:15 p. m. for a trial period.

Onteora Changes

issue could be proposed when the Olive site is available. This would not delay the vote on the bond issue for the two school program.

The vote last evening was for a bond issue of $775,000 for two schools not to exceed approximately that sum.

Leo Halder of Shokan was engaged as night custodian for the Onteora School and George O'Dell of Hurley was engaged as science and mathematics teacher.

The board authorized attendance of a group of five pupils at a special class in the West Hurley School.

Approval was given of the work done by William Van-Kleeck and Son, New Paltz, on the athletic field in the sum of $11,216.15. This included a quarter mile track, a 220 yard straightway, baseball diamond, soft ball diamond and additional fill for the playground and for drainage work.

The board's architect Reisner and Diamond of New York failed to give approval for two other sites for the school in the Bearsville area.

During the meeting the board reviewed the opinions which have been expressed at various area public meetings regarding the proposed three school plan and bond issue. Reduction of the bond issue and the proposal to go ahead with the two school plan now and also the advisability of erection of one school in the Bearsville area instead of at Lake Hill, was partially due to the result of the survey and the public reaction to the original plan, a board member stated.

THRUWAY COLLISION—Two tractor-trailers were in collision on the Thruway about eight miles south of Kingston at 2:30 a. m. Tuesday. Thruway police of the Highland station reported that a 1955 tractor-trailer owned by Eugene Fortin of Napierville, Quebec, Canada, proceeding south, stalled in the driving lane and the lights went out. A second tractor-trailer, owned by Clare Schnepf of Walton, also proceeding south at 50 MPH failed to see the stalled vehicle and struck it in the rear. Operator of the Schnepf truck, Clifford Liddle, 36, of Delhi, escaped injury although the tractor in which he was riding was described as "ruined." Driver of the stalled tractor-trailer was Andre Barrette, 27, of Montreal. (Anner photo).

Eisenhower Backed By Seafarers' Union

Washington, Oct. 31 (P)—Harry Lundberg, president of the Seafarers' International Union, today endorsed President Eisenhower for re-election. The White House made public a letter from Lundberg saying that during the Eisenhower administration "our people have gained economically without having to resort to strike."

Also, Lundberg said, "we have not been bothered by governmental interference in our collective bargaining."

The union, which represents unlicensed seagoing maritime personnel, has its headquarters in San Francisco.

Briefly Told

Rome, N. Y., Oct. 31 (P)—Union barbers here have decided to guard their tongues so that they won't contribute to juvenile delinquency.

Also, they are pulling down suggestive calendars in barber shops and throwing out any literature they think might be considered objectionable for children.

Under a union program, the barbers agreed to guard their conversations and "not to acquire a reputation as a barber from whom teen-agers can get information on gambling and other vices."

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 31 (P)—The influence of television has stepped up children's reading and turned it to new channels, in the opinion of Mrs. Elizabeth Reed, children's librarian in suburban Delmar.

In recent years, she says, children have shown greater interest in biographies, plays, science fiction and travel, all subjects of many TV programs.

Career books on how to become a nurse, scientist or engineer, etc., are being read extensively for the first time in many years, she says.

Fairy tales and stories about children and animals are not collecting dust, however, she reports.

Washington, Oct. 31 (P)—Union Sun & Journal Inc. of Lockport, N. Y., has applied to the Federal Communications Commission for permission to operate an FM station.

The application was filed yesterday.
